I. W. W. JURY TOLD OF PLOT AT STOCKTON

William Hood, Held to Have Figured in Dynamite Shipment to Sacramento, Also An Anti-War Defendant

Elbert Coutts, Ex-Convict, Testifies He Left I. W. W. Because of Plea Made By His Mother That He Reform

Activities of Stockton and Sacramento members of the Industrial Workers of the World occupied the attention of the jury trying James McHugo for criminal syndicalism before Judge James G. Quinn today. Particularly did the prosecution enlarge upon a shipment of dynamite from a Placer county mountain camp to William Hood at Sacramento, of how the Sacramento police got wind of the shipment and of Hood's arrest and conviction.

This information was given by Arthur D. Ryan, captain of detectives, and J. T. Richards, sergeant of police of Sacramento. Ryan related that an I. W. W., Paul Bohlhorn, volunteered the data regarding the shipment and that Hood was seized by himself and Richards at the American Express company office in Sacramento when he went there to claim his goods.

SAID DYNAMITE WAS TO BE USED IN MINE

Both testified that Hood declared he intended to use the dynamite for mine prospecting in Mono county. Richards contributed the fact, under questioning by Deputy District Attorneys A. A. Rogers and John U. Calkins, that Hood said:

"The I. W. W. is my God and my county, and I don't care who knows it."

William B. Cleary for the defense brought out, during cross-examination, that Hood was arrested in connection with the dynamiting of the governor's mansion six days previous and that he was convicted for interfering with the prosecution of the defendants at Stockton.

Chief of Police W. M. Simpson of Stockton and C. W. Potter, a detective of that city, told of visiting the arc of "Dublin Bob" Connellan on the Stockton slough and finding various scientific apparatus, chemicals and books on chemistry therein. The first effort made by the defense to impeach a State's witness was leveled at Chief Simpson by Cleary on several material points.

I. W. W. OPPOSED TO LIQUOR "DURING STRIKES"

Elbert Coutts, former I. W. W., ex-convict and State's informant in this trial, was recalled to the stand for a brief time for cross-examination. He admitted to Cleary that the I. W. W. had promulgated a ruling against "high-jacks," or highwaymen, and against "bootleggers." It had threatened to drive them out of the country, he said. He also declared that, during strikes, the I. W. W. made a definite effort to keep its members from the use of liquor, though he said that Mortimer Downing, former Oakland secretary, was drunk during part of the hopfield proceedings.

The cross-examination of Coutts continued through a considerable portion of the afternoon session. It was expected he would be followed on the stand by Jack Diamond, also a former member of the Industrial Workers of the World.

QUIT I. W. W. TO PLEASE HIS MOTHER

In reply to an early question of Cleary, Coutts explained that he abandoned the wayward career upon which he had launched himself because his mother pleaded with him to reform. He had not seen her for six years, he said. Then, when he was under arrest with a number of other I. W. W.s, she came to see him at the Sacramento jail. She pointed out that his two brothers, both in war service, had done their duty by their country and begged him to do the same. He complied with her request, turned State's evidence and has since been an informant against his previous companions.

NEVER COMMITTED HIGHWAY ROBBERY

Coutts maintained that I. W. W.s were given to various crimes, from hold-ups down to petty pilfering. Asked by Cleary if he had ever committed a highway robbery, he replied:

"No, I never got quite that expert."

Cleary's early examination probed the conditions that sent Coutts upon the road, with the apparent purpose of showing that he was a product of the industrial system.

"You can't prove that," interjected Deputy District Attorney Rogers. "He is not a product of the industrial system but of I. W. W.-ism."

William C. O'Brien was another witness in the afternoon hearing yesterday. He is a San Francisco policeman. He told of raiding I. W. W. headquarters in that city. Once, he said, he saw McHugo in one of the headquarters. This is the first time in which McHugo has been mentioned personally by any prosecution witness. O'Brien told of taking large quantities of literature, sand, saltpeter, a Maxim silencer and other articles in his raids.

INCENDIARY BOMBS ARE DESCRIBED

Leon E. Happel, city and county chemist at Stockton, told of analyzing materials in incendiary bombs and other goods of supposed I. W. W. origin which were presented to him. He explained the chemical properties of constituents of these bombs which caused them to explode on contact surrounding aerial.

Representatives of the district attorney's office announced today they would conclude the State's case either tomorrow or Thursday.

Blind and Without Hands, This Hero Preaches Happiness

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Sergeant Nicholls of the Durham Light Infantry, who is blind, lost his hands and two ribs, and through a mistake of a friend received several wounds in an accident at the front, recently preached a sermon on "how to attain happiness."

He said he was determined to live and had not had a fit of depression since his misfortune. He found happiness in trying to help others less fortunate than himself.

SECOND OLDEST NATIVE SON DIES AT CASTRO HOME

RICHMOND, Nov. 25.—Patrico John Castro, the second oldest native son in California, and the man who sold Mare Island to the United States Government, died last night at his home at San Pablo. He was 77 years old.

He came from the old Castro family, prominent in the early annals of San Francisco and Contra Costa county. The town of Martinez was named after his mother, Louise Martinez. His father owned a large portion of Contra Costa county. Castro street, San Francisco, takes its name from his family. His father, Victor Castro, formerly owned the present Presidio site and lived there for a great many years.

Patrico John Castro was born in 1842 at El Cerrito at the old Castro home on the top of the hill at the county line. In 1868 he made his home at San Pablo and has lived here since.

He was the father of L. H. Castro of Richmond, of Mrs. T. J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. H. J. Brennan and Percy C. Castro. The latter is the present owner of the ranch where his father had made his home. He was also father of the late P. J. and Henrietta Castro.

The body is at the Curry undertaking parlors in Richmond. The funeral arrangements have not been announced.

TALKS BURGLAR OUT OF IDEA OF ROBBING HOME

When George Wood, 1008 Fifth street, encountered a burglar in his parlor early today, he calmly entered into conversation with him.

Wood told his uninvited guest to be seated. Then he informed the burglar that "burgling" was bad business. This seemed to astonish the burglar, who argued somewhat on the point. He said that it seemed to him as quick a way to "get a clink in the pocket" as any other. Wood reminded him of the clink of the jail bars and said that there were many pitfalls for a young fellow in the burglary profession. He gave it as his opinion that it was almost impossible to travel the straight and narrow road if one were addicted to "burgling."

The burglar admitted there might be something in Wood's line of argument. At last the young man was moved almost to tears and promised to think seriously about abandoning his profession. Wood then told him he might go.

Wood found piled on the kitchen table loot the burglar had gathered together. Nothing was missing.

Neither the burglar nor Wood was armed. Wood said it was one of the most interesting chats in which he ever had indulged. He notified the police today.

6660 MEN AT WORK IN BAY SHIP PLANTS

Secretary of Metal Trades' Association Says Over Thousand More Returned to the Jobs Within Last 24 Hours

Representative of Strikers Asserts Skilled Men Are Standing Pat and That Number Returning Is About 2000

The second day of the operators' campaign to break the strike of the 35,000 ship workers ended today with both sides claiming victory. The operators said that 6660 men had returned to their jobs, while the strikers declared that the actual number did not exceed 2000. Secretary Metcalf of the California Metal Trades Association, made the statement on behalf of the employers, and F. C. Miller is spokesman in the conflicting statement of the workers.

Metcalf says that of those returning approximately a majority represent the skilled trades, while Miller denies the truth of the claim, declaring that the skilled men are standing pat.

Both sides to the controversy appear optimistic today that the final outcome will vindicate their respective positions.

"We are more than pleased with the result of our determination to open the plants," said Metcalf. "More than 1000 men have returned within the past twenty-four hours and larger numbers of men are hourly reporting for duty."

WOMAN IS CHEERED FOR HER COURAGE.

At the Bethlehem yard this morning in San Francisco a gray-haired woman appeared leading her husband by the hand. They passed silently down between two rows of strikers, and at the gate the man took his admittance card from his pocket and handing it to the keeper went inside and to work. The little woman walked back between the lines and was cheered by the strikers for her courage.

At the Hanlon yards a large number of men were at work today and inviting gangs had their machines going nosily early in the forenoon.

"They can shout all they want, but we are perfectly satisfied; the operators' plan to end the strike of its shipyard employees fast is approaching complete failure," declared Frank C. Miller, secretary of the Iron Trades Council, in a statement issued today. "We are perfectly satisfied. Despite all their claims and all their jubilation, latest information available in our office indicates that there are not more than 2000 men now at work in all the shipyards in the bay region.

SAYS SHIPYARDS CAN'T RUN WITH NEW FORCE.

"Even if the total of men now reported to be at work was treble, it would do no good. The shipyards would require 100,000 men similar to those now employed to make adequate and continued operation of the yards possible.

"I foresee the approaching end of the strike. The operators know they are up against a stone wall. As soon as they have spent the money saved by excess profits tax waivers they will have to close down."

Miller said that the Iron Trades Council at a meeting last night unanimously adopted resolutions expressing confidence in the outcome of the strike and reiterating its determination to keep its men out of the yards until their demands have been granted. He asserted that virtually every so-called outside shop in the bay district was closed down completely.

SHIPYARD WORKER IS STRUCK ON HEAD

Ben Green of 2941 Webster street, who was attacked in a strikers' restaurant at First and Adeline streets yesterday, is the first victim of violence since the shipyards were reopened, according to the police.

Green, union member, returned to work at the yards yesterday. He went into the strikers' restaurant, where the men on strike have been getting free meals, for something to eat. While Green was eating, he was knocked from his seat by a heavy blow inflicted with a blunt instrument on the back of his head.

Green next found himself out on the street. Sergeant John Pullman and Officer R. Lyons removed the injured man to the emergency hospital at Moore shipyards. They later investigated, but were unable to locate Green's assailant.

Chief of Police Lynch after a personal canvas, announced that the situation was quiet at all yards and no violence is expected.

A squad of ten policemen, in charge of a sergeant, is stationed at each yard. The police are not carrying riot sticks. Chief Lynch said that if any trouble arose the policemen would be "strapped for action."

SETTLEMENT THOUGHT TO BE NEAR IN NORTH

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 25.—A conference between President C. W. Wiley of the Todd Drydock and Construction Company and the conference committee of the metal trades, arranged today in the Tacoma hotel, led to belief that settlement of the shipyard strike here is not far off. The conference, it was understood, was to act on definite proposals submitted by government mediators for ending the strike.

Egyptians Appeal to Wilson Against British Violence

(By Associated Press)

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Said Zagloul Pasha, president of the Egyptian delegation to the peace conference, has sent a cablegram to President Wilson declaring that as a result of having faith in his principles and claiming independence, the Egyptians who fought beside the allies now find themselves the objects of barbarous treatment at the hands of the British authorities. The communication says in conclusion:

"The bloody scenes which Egypt, powerless, witnesses today solicit your attention. We adjure you not to leave the Egyptian people alone against implacable England."

LONDON, Nov. 25.—Inflammatory documents are being widely circulated in Egypt, threatening a general strike on the railroads throughout the country, according to advices from Cairo today. The documents menace volunteers with death. The railroad men assert that they are fully armed.

FOOCHOW RIOTS CAUSE JAPAN TO SEND WARSHIP

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TOKYO, Nov. 25. — In official quarters it is feared the rioting at Foochow between Chinese and Japanese Formosans, which started November 15, will lead to serious international conflict.

The Peking government has protested the dispatch of Japanese warships, which are already steaming toward Foochow. The Japanese legation, replying, declared presence of warships at Foochow is absolutely necessary because a Japanese community is endangered.

Dispatches from Peking declare many Chinese and a Y. M. C. A. secretary were hurt when Formosans attacked Chinese students who were urging a boycott on Japanese merchandise.

The Shantung award by the peace conference offers the background for the disturbances.

PEKING, Thursday, Nov. 20 (by the Associated Press).—Many Chinese and an American Y. M. C. A. secretary were injured in the recent clashes between Chinese and Japanese at Foochow, according to information received by government officials here.

The Japanese consul at Foochow has warned the Chinese authorities that if the boycott against Japanese goods is not lifted trouble will ensue for which he refuses to assume responsibility.

JOHN S. CHAMBERS IS SERIOUSLY ILL, PHYSICIANS SAY

State Controller John S. Chambers is at the Hotel Oakland seriously ill of pneumonia. Dr. W. A. Clark, house physician, and Dr. S. H. Bateau, were in consultation shortly before noon and their opinion was that the patient has a "fighting chance" for recovery.

Controller Chambers and Mrs. Chambers were in San Jose, where Chambers had business to attend to. On their way back to Sacramento Chambers complained of feeling fatigued and they stopped at the hotel Saturday afternoon for a few days' seclusion and rest. The pneumonia developed suddenly Sunday night and the physicians were called.

GERMAN MOVE COMPLICATES PEACE TREATY

Departure of Dr. Simson from Paris Will Delay the Final Action on Pact, Is Belief of M. Clemenceau and Others

Refusal to Sign Protocol Held by French Writers to Be the Result of U. S. Senate's Failure to Ratify the Treaty

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Surprise at the departure of Dr. Simson, head of the plenipotentiaries sent by Germany to this city, is expressed in a note delivered to Kurt von Lersner, head of the German delegation at Versailles, by the supreme council last night.

If the treaty of Versailles is not put into force by December 1, the note adds, the responsibility will lie with the German government, as the departure of Dr. Simson inevitably blocks further conferences which must be held. Dr. von Lersner is asked to state what are the intentions of the German government.

It was learned today that Von Lersner sent a letter to Secretary Dutasta of the peace conference Friday to the effect that head of the plenipotentiaries had become convinced that he must consult the German government regarding the protocol, especially as the national assembly would have to approve the decisions reached.

CLEMENCEAU THINKS DELAY INEVITABLE

The Von Lersner letter protested against the question of the repatriation of prisoners again being bound up with that of putting the treaty into effect.

Premier Clemenceau, as president of the peace conference replied on Saturday, saying that Von Lersner's letter made him question if the treaty could be put into force on December 1, owing to the German government's action, although that government had known the contents of the protocol since November 1.

The delay, said Clemenceau, would be regrettable, as it might raise doubts of sincerity of Germany's intentions regarding the execution of the engagements made in the armistice and the peace treaty.

Clemenceau said the supreme council's agreement to release German prisoners was conditional on fulfillment by Germany of the terms of the armistice; Germany had only to sign the protocol and repatriation would commence.

Clemenceau added a postscript expressing surprise at the departure with Simson of the experts who had arrived three days before to regulate all questions. This, Clemenceau asserted, was only explainable as to the significant wish of Germany to delay ratification.

DEMAND DAMAGES FOR LOSS OF FLEET

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Privy Legation Counsellors Simson and Grappert returned this morning from Paris and held a conference with Dr. Hanel von Hamhausen, under secretary of state. According to the Tageblatt, they reported the entente showed some small degree of tenderness, but said the impression on the whole was unfavorable.

The entente is represented as seeming willing to accede to a request for verbal negotiations relative to peace terms as yet unfulfilled, but demands that Germany make good the losses caused by the sinking of the German fleet in Scapa Flow stand virtually unchanged.

"Hopes here and there in Germany that America's failure to ratify the treaty might force France and England to a more favorable attitude toward Germany, may be considered false," says the Tageblatt. "Representatives of France and England in Paris probably will much sooner attempt to inflict their decisions upon Germany independent of the American Senate."

STEEL STRIKE TO BE CALLED OFF SOON, IS VIEW

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 25.—The committee in charge of the steel strike is meeting here to decide whether to officially call off the strike, it was learned today. It is now admitted that the strike is lost. Samuel Gompers and international union officers in Washington have been notified to this effect, and their advice asked whether the strike should still be permitted to continue or be called off officially.

John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the committee, wants the strike continued. The Washington officials have been notified that the consensus among the other members is that it would be bad policy to continue asking for financial aid from other unions with the strikers' ranks rapidly dwindling.

JUGO-SLAVS ARE READY TO FIGHT ITALIANS

Belief Expressed That Only Prompt Interference by the Allies Can Prevent War Over the Adriatic Situation

Ministers at Paris, London and Washington Are Asked to Draw Attention to Danger Caused by D'Annunzio Raids

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

GENEVA, Monday, Nov. 24.—Telegrams received by the Serbian bureau at Berne from Belgrade, Zara and Spalato, convey the impression that only prompt interference by the allies can prevent war over the Adriatic situation as the Jugo-Slavs are said to have lost patience and to be ready to fight the Italians.

"We are astonished that the peace conference permits our people to endure constant persecutions," says one Belgrade paper received here. "Our peaceful attitude is praiseworthy when we might throw D'Annunzio and his filibusters into the sea."

Another newspaper accuses Italy of desiring to blockade Jugo-Slavia's exports and imports and thus "strangle her." A third repeat's recent reports that a reign of terror prevails in Zara, that everybody must wear a brazzard inscribed "Italy or Death," or be badly treated and that Slavs are afraid to leave their homes.

SITUATION CRITICAL, PARIS IS TOLD.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—Despatches confirming reports from Geneva that the situation along the eastern shore of the Adriatic is critical are issued by the Jugo-Slav bureau here. The bureau says the Jugo-Slav government has asked its ministers at Paris, London and Washington to draw the attention of those governments to the dangerous situation arising from D'Annunzio's raids and those he is about to make.

By United Press Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, Nov. 25. — Growing fear of another Balkan war—with Italy and Jugo-Slavia playing the leading roles—was expressed in the British press today.

The anomalous situation created by Gabrielle D'Annunzio in Fiume and Dalmatia has brought the allies nearly to the end of their patience, in the opinion of some newspapers. If this situation is allowed to continue unchecked, in the opinion of the Evening Standard, it will provoke a new war.

D'ANNUNZIO DEFYING ALLIES, IS CLAIM.

The Pall Mall Gazette fears a possible Balkan war unless the peace conference takes action to enforce its decisions with regard to Fiume and Dalmatia. No agreement Italy may enter can be considered more than "a scrap of paper" so long as her soldiers and sailors may be weaned from allegiance to their country and "induced to flout the peace conference," the Gazette announced.

D'Annunzio holds Fiume and Zaranot, not only against the request of the peace conference, but in direct defiance of the orders of his government, this newspaper pointed out, and he even has induced Italian military forces to embark upon "attacks upon neighboring countries."

Jugo-Slavia, the Gazette said, has exercised "most exemplary restraint" in not taking action against D'Annunzio, assuming that the peace conference will carry out the provisions decided upon for disposal of Adriatic territory. If these terms are not executed speedily, in the opinion of this newspaper, Italy soon may find herself involved in a disastrous Balkan adventure because of the actions of her "filibusterers."

DECLARE POET HAS BECOME NUISANCE.

D'Annunzio has become a "serious nuisance," in the opinion of the Evening Standard.

The Evening News prints a remarkable interview with D'Annunzio, given its correspondent by the poet three weeks ago under promise it would not be printed until D'Annunzio "released" it.

D'Annunzio plans, according to the interview, to occupy the principal cities of Dalmatia and "free Montenegro of Serbian influence. He is "prepared to fight" to carry out his ideals, in case his forces are "threatened with expulsion."

"I am going to occupy the towns given Italy by the pact of London," the correspondent quoted D'Annunzio as saying: "I am going to free Montenegro, which is being denationalized by Serbian methods."

"It has been stated that the Italian government has been helping me secretly. This is absolutely false. The government knows what I ask is only right, but it would seek to better conditions by diplomacy.

"To frighten world opinion there will be much talk of civil war in Italy, the menace of a Balkan war and the sowing of the seeds of Bolshevism. This means nothing. My expedition is not the germs of a revolution; it is the evolution of a country toward complete unity as a great nation."

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Mexican government is keeping closely in touch with the sentiment with regard to the Jenkins case, it was learned at the Mexican embassy today.

Ambassador Bonillas stated that he had exchanged several communications with his government relative to the case, but none was of any importance. The ambassador was still confident that a satisfactory settlement of the case may be reached shortly.

The Mexican embassy here is preparing to release a statement on the Jenkins case published in La Tribuna, which tends to show that Jenkins was partly responsible for his own abduction.

COAL SITUATION UP TO OFFICIALS AT WHITE HOUSE

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The coal crisis is back in the hands of President Wilson and the cabinet today. With the operators and miners in a deadlock over proposed wage increases, it was expected that the cabinet today would take on the work of an arbitrator and decide how large increases should be granted the miners and who shall bear the burden.

Dr. Garfield, fuel administrator, sounded a note of warning to both parties to the controversy when he told them that increases in the price of coal that the operators will declare when the wage question is settled.

There was every indication today that the cabinet would agree on a wage increase that would be a compromise between the thirty-one per cent suggested by Secretary of Labor Wilson and the twenty per cent offered by the operators.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Closing of additional manufacturing plants in the Middle West with others placed on a further curtailed fuel ration and lessening of production even in the mines which have been worked since the strike of approximately 425,000 bituminous coal miners went into effect twenty-five days ago, was in prospect today.

A ray of hope entered the situation, however, with consideration of the entire strike question by President Wilson's cabinet, with possible reference to the chief executive of the whole difficulty.

From none of the great production fields came an indication today that the miners had altered their disposition to await an agreement by the operators-miners conference at Washington. In Wyoming and Oklahoma there was a prospect of production being resumed, and in West Virginia where the greatest quantity of coal has been brought out since the strike started, state troops were ready to curb radicals, who threatened to shoot miners returning to work.

The Wyoming miners were to return today after one day's strike and in Oklahoma, Governor Robertson said mining operations would be started again on the state prison farm.

Indiana factories and public utilities today were operated on a greatly reduced basis, steps to conmore drastic than in the Chicago vicinity. A wave of crime that followed cutting off of street illumination in Chicago caused that order to be cancelled.

POSTMASTER'S LETTER ROILS CITY COUNCIL

Postmaster J. J. Rosborough probably will receive a very interesting communication within a few days from Commissioner of Streets William J. Baccus.

This morning Postmaster Rosborough notified the city council that no further attempts should be made to widen Seventeenth street, between Broadway and Franklin streets, until some decision on the proposed widening is received from the treasury department and the United States district attorney, with whom Rosborough has communicated on the project.

"Does Mr. Rosborough think he has control over the streets of Oakland?" asked Commissioner of Streets Baccus, when the communication was read to the council by City Clerk Lon Cummings.

"It would seem so," commented Commissioner W. H. Edwards.

"How is that letter signed?" asked Commissioner Frederick Soderberg. The city clerk read the signature as appearing over the title "Custodian."

"Custodian of what?" demanded Baccus.

"We have a number of so-called custodians in this building," said Commissioner Soderberg, "but we call them janitors."

"Refer the letter to me and I'll answer it," offered Baccus, and his suggestion was followed.

Oakland Has Cheapest Milk in U. S. and Encourages Keeping of Cows in City

That Oakland is getting cheaper milk than any other city in the United States of similar population was the statement made to the city council this morning by Dr. C. C. Wing, city veterinarian and head of the local milk inspection department.

Dr. Wing notified the council, in answer to the action of Commissioner W. H. Edwards, yesterday in suggesting that restrictions on the keeping of cows be lifted so that the price of milk may be reduced, that there is no ban on the keeping of cows excepting by an ordinance regulating the number of cows to be kept in certain districts, and that no further legislation is necessary to relieve the condition.

"There are 104 dairies in this city," said Dr. Wing, "and an unlimited number of cows kept in the city limits. My department is not opposed to the keeping of cows and in fact will encourage it and will be pleased over any increase in the number of dairies, providing they will be correctly regulated. This city is getting cheaper milk than any other city of its size in the country. In the annexed districts they are selling milk for 12 cents a quart."

CONTROLS ONLY HALF

Dr. Wing further announced that the California Central Milk Producers' Association has control over only a little more than half of the milk used in the city and that it has no absolute control over the milk situation.

Dr. Wing's stand in favor of the keeping of cows by citizens was backed by Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Morse, who notified the council that his department is not opposed to citizens producing their own milk.

Reorganization of the city board of inquiry, which sits on cases of accidents to city employees, was effected by the city council this morning in the adoption of an ordinance increasing the membership of the board from three to five members and including City Bacteriologist Dr. E. F. Jones and Deputy Auditor F. H. Pratt. The other members of the board are City Attorney H. L. Hagan, City Health Officer Dr. Daniel Crosby and City Engineer Marston Campbell. The new ordinance also allows the heads of the departments to be represented in their absence at meetings by deputies.

PROTESTS UPHELD

Protests of property owners against the improvement of Fourteenth street, between Market and Wood streets, were upheld by the city council on the recommendation of Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus, and the proceedings already started ordered rescinded. The council agreed to confer later on a plan to improve the street without placing a heavy burden on the taxpayers.

Protests of trustees of the First United Presbyterian church against the granting of a garage permit to Lee Perkins for the erection of a public garage at College avenue and Chabot road were overruled this morning and a permit granted to Perkins for the work. Perkins explained that he had planned for the erection of the garage after purchasing the site from a trustee of the church, who assured him that there would be no protest against his application.

BONDSMAN MAY LOSE $2000 MORE

That James Rohan and Fred Osgood, professional bondsman, will probably suffer a loss of $2000 as the result of another alleged criminal jumping bail, was evident today when it was disclosed that Harry McDonald, charged with robbery, was still a fugitive from justice and the police had no trace of him.

After several continuances, the name of McDonald was again called for arraignment before Judge Quinn, but he failed to put in an appearance. He is charged with robbing the home of Mrs. Carlotta Fenner, 419 Palo avenue, Piedmont, of silverware which he afterwards sold for $100. McDonald has served one term at San Quentin.

EARTHQUAKE PREDICTION IS FULFILLED

Running along on the schedule made for it by Professor Albert F. Porta, as announced exclusively in The TRIBUNE, an earthquake arrived in the bay district at 3:05 this morning, waking the light sleepers and frightening the stay-ups to bed. Over in San Francisco two men working on a pipe organ ran out into the street and told a policeman that someone was trying to blow on the pipes.

Two distinct shocks were felt close together and severe enough to rattle windows and bang doors. Hotel windows lighted up an instant after the temblors passed and downtown a few people went out on the streets.

The quake was predicted by Professor Porta in The TRIBUNE on October 27, and the planets were blamed, as follows:

"Earthquakes will occur along the Adriatic-Mediterranean shore or the Pacific Coast November 20-25, especially due to the conjunction of Mercury with Uranus (November 14), Jupiter with Mars (October 8), Neptune with Mars (October 22) and the latter opposition of Mercury with Venus. Severe."

HAYWARD, Nov. 25.—An earthquake shock was felt here this morning a few minutes after 3 o'clock. Several residents report that they were almost thrown out of bed. Many thought it was another explosion, having in mind the explosion of the Trojan powder works at San Lorenzo about two weeks ago.

NILES, Nov. 25.—An earthquake shock here this morning was very distinct. No damage was done, but many residents were frightened.

MARTINEZ, Nov. 25.—A slight earthquake shock was felt through Contra Costa county this morning. Reports indicate that it was not as pronounced here is in the bay region. At Pittsburg it was barely felt.

COFFEE HOUSE IS OWNED BY "ROOSEVELTS"

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Purely as a business enterprise, and not as a political venture, members of the Roosevelt family have associated themselves to conduct in New York a "coffee house," a name reminiscent of centers of political and literary discussion in earlier days in English history.

The purpose of the company, in which Theodore, Archibald and Kermit Roosevelt, Dr. Richard Derby and Philip J. Roosevelt are directors, is to take over an existing coffee house on the edge of the white light district.

"We saw a chance to 'make some money,'" said one of the directors, "that's the whole explanation."

WOMAN'S BODY, IN CEMETERY, IS BEHEADED

POMONA, Nov. 25. — Head hunters, using an automobile for their weird and ghoulish errand, raided a cemetery on the San Jacinto Indian reservation, and, exhuming a casket containing the body of Mrs. Thomas Arenas, stole the head, and returned the rest of the body to its receptacle, according to a report made to Police Chief Bert Lyter, here today.

The purpose of the raid is shrouded in mystery, and those who investigated it have evolved no tenable theory.

Mrs. Arenas was an Indian woman, who died a year ago.

SUPERVISORS OF S. F. SCORE U.S. COAL ACTS

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—After sitting until 2 o'clock this morning in a session marked by threats of members to throw their opponents out of the window, the Board of Supervisors voted, 15 to 2, to uphold its former action condemning the federal government for its stand in the miners' strike.

In the face of protests from civic organizations, which declared that the board had no right to represent the city as opposed to the government's positions, the supervisors stood by their guns and not a vote was changed.

The debate lasted throughout the day and the acrimony increased as the night wore on and still the oratory continued. A principal champion of the resolution, which denounced the federal injunction proceedings to break the miners' strike, was Supervisor Andrew J. Gallagher. Supervisor Emmet Hayden charged that the doors of the chamber had been opened surreptitiously before time for the session and supporters of Gallagher had packed the room.

HOOTED BY CROWD.

Hayden and Supervisor Powers, who opposed the resolution, were booed and hooted by the crowd.

Gallagher started the argument by challenging: "Now bring on your patriots."

Hayden got into action and was jeered so he could not make himself heard. When there was a semblance of quiet he turned his attention to Gallagher at once.

"When the war was on I did not see this gentleman who talks about patriotism shoulder a musket and go to the front," shouted Hayden.

"If this man is allowed to attack my patriotism I'll throw him out of the window," retorted Gallagher.

Hayden replied that he was quite sure he would not be thrown out the window and would "continue to protect speakers from remarks by Supervisor Gallagher."

Among the labor leaders who had seats within the enclosure were Frank McDonald of the Building Trades Council; John O'Connell, secretary of the San Francisco Labor Council, and George A. Tracy, president of San Francisco Typographical Union No. 21.

LIKE WAVING RED FLAG.

In opposition to the resolution, speakers declared that without reference to the merits of the stand the supervisors should not attempt to express the sentiment of the entire city on a national question of the sort. They said it would be like waving a red flag.

William D. Hubbard represented the Bar Association, and asserted the supervisors had no right to adopt resolutions condemning the government. The Real Estate board was represented by Louis H. Mooser, who said the resolution did not give the unanimous sentiment of the community.

"In the passage of this resolution you are spelling anarchy as much as any red flag waver," declared Harry G. McKinnay of the Rotary club.

Albert H. Elliott, attorney, called it "a piece of official impertinence."

Fickert Is Reported Partially Paralyzed

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25. — Charles M. Fickert, former district attorney here and prosecutor of Thomas Mooney, is in a sanitarium here today, "recovering from an illness." Report circulated among his political friends that Fickert is paralyzed from the hips down receives no confirmation from sanitarium officials nor the immediate family. Fickert, however, at one time suffered a stroke of paralysis and his friends here today declared that he is now suffering a recurrence.

Kelly Assumes Office as County Tax Collector

M. J. KELLY

Eddie T. Planer Is His Chief Deputy; Senator Johnson Wires Congratulations

M. J. Kelly, for thirteen years county treasurer, is on the job today as county tax collector, successor to James B. Barber, and Eddie T. Planer, associated with him during his incumbency of the treasury, is his chief deputy. Planer, since the last election, has been chief deputy assessor. William Hodges, chief deputy under Barber, will remain on the staff as chief clerk, and in the assessor's office E. F. Van Alstine, formerly right-of-way agent for the City of Oakland, will become chief deputy, while Charles Wagner, cashier, will be promoted to take Van Alstine's former position. Planer said today that no changes in the personnel of the staff of the collector's office are contemplated.

The appointment of Kelly to the collectorship carries a salary and emoluments of between $5000 and $6000. When the death of Barber was announced and the question of his successor arose, Kelly's friends immediately suggested him for the position.

Supervisor W. J. Hamilton called upon other supervisors to ascertain their attitude, and was assured by Supervisors Staats and Heyer that they would vote for him. Chairman J. F. Mullins was in Santa Cruz at the time. He returned to the supervisors' room and canvassed the situation. Mullins would have accepted the position himself, it is understood, but when the name of Kelly was mentioned he immediately assented, and the vote was unanimous.

The election of Kelly is likely to heal the long-standing breach in the Board of Supervisors.

Kelly's administration of the office of county treasurer was commended by several grand juries. During his incumbency, and before, he was regarded as the "boss" of the county politics, a title which he repudiates.

Kelly has been a close associate of Senator Hiram Johnson, in fact has been recognized as his chief representative in Alameda county political affairs.

A telegram of congratulation has been received from the senator by Kelly. The telegram follows:

"The heartiest congratulations of my wife and myself upon your appointment. We not only congratulate you, but we congratulate the people, too. We know no better selection could have been made and we are rejoicing in your new honor.

"HIRAM W. JOHNSON."

Married, He Deserted Week Later, Charge

Clyde Maurice Daly deserted his wife, Mrs. Betty Mae Daly, just one week after their marriage, and then wrote her letters containing "scandalous and improper matter," and telling of his adventures with other women, according to Mrs. Daly's complaint for divorce. He also wrote, it is charged, that he no longer cared for her. They were married September 21, 1918, it is stated, and separated one week later, Daly going to Washington, where he was in the government employ. Mrs. Daly asks for $60 a month alimony.

Mrs. Edith M. Courter, suing Charles Reed Courter, says he left their apartment one night and she, following, found him in another apartment embracing a woman. She also alleges he ran around with other women, openly, and once brought a man home with him, after which both became intoxicated. They were married in 1911 and separated September 10 last. There are four children.

Two Ex-Soldiers to Face Serious Charge

MARYSVILLE, Nov. 25.—P. M. Churchill, alias McDonald, and A. McBride, alleged to be former soldiers and charged with forcing Jack Dunning, son of a local garage owner, to drive them to Redding, Friday, after they had hired the automobile to take them to Oroville, were brought back to Redding today, following their arrest yesterday at Ashland, Ore., it was learned here.

A charge of obtaining money under false pretenses will be placed against Churchill and McBride, the authorities here were advised today fro mRedding.

Admits Forgery of Check for Good Time

Claiming that he "took a chance" just for having a good time and forged a check for $75, David Bush, 22, today admitted the forgery charge and was held to answer in superior court in bail of $2000 by Police Mortimer Smith.

The check was cashed by D. D. Watkins of the Motor Express Company, with whom Bush had a brief acquaintanceship. The paper was endorsed by John Salzen, a radiator repairer, who must make good the

LEADERS IN BIG PROJECT DIE SAME DAY

Linked together in the history of major projects in the Eastbay district, are the names of two men who died yesterday, Charles M. Belshaw, former state senator and financier, victim of an automobile accident, and A. W. Maltby, Contra Costa county capitalist, who passed away at his home in Concord.

They were two of the three leading citizens of Walnut Creek who gave aid to the founding of the Oakland Antioch & Eastern railroad, the Tunnel road and the Mount Diablo project. The third man was James M. Stowe, who died about six months ago.

Pioneers today pointed to the coincidence of the death of two of the leaders upon the same day. They were the last, it was said, of the early boosters of their district.

As a consulting engineer, Maltby did notable work. He was the first to investigate for the government the feasibility of Lake Tahoe for irrigation purposes. He reported adversely and though his report was opposed by the secretary of the interior, it was approved by President Roosevelt, and the plan temporarily abandoned.

His work in connection with the Tunnel road was recalled today by Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange, which organization aided in promoting that project.

Maltby was one of the last boosters, also, of the horse racing game. When he settled at Walnut Creek, he bought a large stock farm where he raised fine racing horses, and he still owned at his death many blooded steeds.

He came from England and settled almost immediately in Contra Costa county. A widow and eight children survive him. He was 65 years of age.

Funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning at the family home in Concord. Friends are invited to the services but the rites at the graves will be private. Interment will be at Mountain View cemetery.

FRATERNITIES TO AID IN PAGEANT

Members of fraternal orders are taking an active interest in the plans for Oakland's Universal Christmas Pageant, being arranged through the efforts of the recreation department of the school department. Further plans were discussed at a meeting yesterday, and those present showed interest in the proposed program and were unanimous in offering their services in any way in which their organizations could assist in the celebration.

The Modern Woodmen of America pledged money to assist in defraying the expense of costuming 300 small boys who are to be dressed as animated toys—tin soldiers, animals from Noah's ark, balloons and gaily colored mechanical toys that belong to the Christmas season. The other organizations followed suit and pledged their support. These organizations will take entire charge of this pqhase of the entertainment.

C. A. Withington and T. H. Gurley, who have been instrumental in organizing the Junior Aviators, an association of city newsboys, were at the meeting and so enthused over the idea that they requested that their newsboys be permitted to take the part of the toys.

The pageant will be given in the Municipal Auditorium on Saturday evening, December 20, at 8 o'clock and will be repeated on Sunday afternoon, December 21.

Miss Louise Mahoney Opens Art Exhibit

The exhibition of watercolors and pastels of Miss Louise Mahoney at the Schussler gallery, 285 Geary street, opened yesterday with a group of interested spectators from both sides of the bay to greet the first exhibition of the former Oakland artist.

A group of gardens has arrested the interest of the painter, who presents a glimpse of the Oscar Sutro gardens in Piedmont, showing the arched gateway, festooned with trailing vines, and the well known medallion of a Madonna on the gray wall. Views of Chinatown and its colorful environments add to the diversity of subject matter. A record of two sales on opening day is indicative of the charm of the presentations and of their interest for the laymen.

The exhibition will continue for two weeks.

Orchardist Again Fined; Apples Poor

California fancy grades," the apples were labeled. Deputy Horticultural Commissioner D. P. T. MacDonald looked over them and decided T. Iwasaki's definition of "fancy" didn't agree with the state fruit standardization law. Iwasaki, an orchadist of San Jose, today was fined $250 or 150 days in jail by Police Judge Samuels. He paid the fine. This was his fourth offense. In previous cases he forfeited $150 bail.

SMOKE LEAGUE PREPARES FOR LOBBY BATTLE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The smoke is ready for war.

The National Tobacco League of America, organized to combat anti-tobacco legislation, has opened headquarters here to keep a watchful eye on Congress.

Today the league issued a scathing denunciation of Dr. Clarence True Wilson, secretary of the temperance board of the Methodist church, declaring that he has libelled the President and the government and cast serious reflections upon those American soldiers who smoked cigarettes in the line of battle.

In an open letter to Bishop McDowell of the Methodist church, the league today declared that smokers are "God fearing people" and "their quarrel is never with the church, but it is with those members of it who prefer fanaticism to Christianity that respects the truth as Jesus taught

MERCHANTS PLAN 'FRIENDSHIP TRIP'

Plans for a two-day "friendship trip" of Oakland business men to Solano, Napa, Sonoma and Marin counties, starting next Tuesday, have been completed by the trade extension committee of the Chamber of Commerce, it was announced this morning.

For the first time in the history of these numerous trips made by the Chamber of Commerce, the party will travel by motor car. Sixteen passenger automobiles have been arranged for and from present indications at least ten of these large machines will depart from the Chamber of Commerce early next Tuesday morning.

The itinerary includes Vallejo, Napa, Calistoga, Santa Rosa, Sebastopol, Petaluma and San Rafael. Tuesday night will be passed at Santa Rosa, where the Chamber of Commerce of that city is planning to give a dinner in honor of the Oaklanders.

The route for the up trip will be by way of the Rodeo ferry and the return will be by way of Point San Quentin and Richmond.

The trade extension committee has decided to extend invitations to all of the other civic and commercial organizations in Oakland to send representatives along.

NEW LABOR PARTY WELCOMES WOMEN

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—A national committee, to be made up of two representatives—one man and one woman—from each state in the Union, was decided upon at today's session of the national labor party, now in conference here.

An effort to fix representation so that it would be most numerous from those sections of the country in which organized labor was strongest, was voted down following a hot debate.

Clarence White, who heads the boilermakers' delegation, in address during which he declared "source of all news now furnished the capitalist press is contaminated" urged the government to go into newspaper business and take over news disseminating agencies.

The convention sent a delega to the county jail today to report the happenings of the meetings Charles Dold, head of the la party in Cook county, Illinois, in jail for disobeying a court junction.

GIVE CHILDREN CHANCE TO GET EVEN SHOULDERS

"Why is your right shoulder lower than your left?"

An Oakland tailor, accustomed to measure customers, noted the discrepancy in the height of most shoulders and sought a reason. B. Axel Ovlen tells of his discovery in a booklet, "For the Good of the Child." He says that the mother in walking along the street with a child holds it usually by the child's left hand, to ward off bumps from passersby, and also that women ordinarily carry bundles in their left arm, so the right is free to grasp the child. Ovlen urges mothers to vary the practice so the youngsters will have even shoulders.

LAKE STEAMER GROUNDED.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Nov. 25.—The big cargo carrier Kotcher, down bound for Lake Erie points, is firmly grounded on Cedar Point reef, in the Upper St. Mary's river, where she struck early today during a blinding snowstorm. Tugs have been sent to the Kotcher's assistance.

KILLS WIFE, TWO CHILDREN, SELF

BELLINGHAM, Wash., Nov. 25.—Hanging from a rafter in a boathouse on Drayton harbor, two miles from Blaine, with a knife wound in his breast, the body of Otis McGuire, who yesterday murdered his wife and two little daughters, Dorothy, 12, and Gertrude, 8, was found today.

McGuire is presumed to have become insane. After committing the triple murder, leaving the bodies of his three victims together on a bed in the home at Blaine, he wrote a note saying his body would be found floating in Drayton harbor, and then left the house with his dog.

Citizens' Committee Plan Arouses Storm of Protest At School Board Meeting

Recommendations of the building program committee of the board of education that a committee of citizens be appointed to assist in and pass judgment on the building program to be undertaken under the recent $5,000,000 bond issue, aroused a storm of protest at the board's regular meeting last night and resulted in the calling of a special meeting of the committee of the whole for the settlement of the question tomorrow morning.

The issue was brought before the board in the form of a report from the building program committee, consisting of President Floyd Gray, Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter and Director J. Loran Pease, suggesting that an outside auditing committee be named, consisting of two members of the advisory bond committee, two members at large and one other to be chosen by the four, to have broad powers in relation to the approaching building campaign.

The duties of the committee as outlined in the protested recommendation would be to audit the plans, procedure, results and costs of the building program, to co-operate with the board and the building program committee in the scheme, and to consider and pass judgment on the plans for the establishment of a construction department, the hiring of architects and engineers, the purchase of sites, the execution of plans, specifications and contracts, the estimates of costs and the expenditure of money.

OPPOSITION DEVELOPS.

All matters of policy and procedure pertaining to the purchase of sites and erection of buildings provided in the building program would be undertaken only after conference with the committee. The report also recommended the establishment of a department of works and the furnishing of headquarters for the carrying on of the work of the building program committee.

Opposition to the plan was led by Director Fred A. Campbell, who was supported in a vote to defer action until further consideration of the committee of the whole by Directors W. H. Edwards and J. F. Chandler.

"I am absolutely opposed to any outside committee handling this building program," said Campbell. "We were elected by the people to represent them, and are not supposed to delegate our authority to any other body. There is no occasion for us to sidestep our responsibility. It is our duty to handle the spending of this money and to perform any duties we were elected to perform."

"I see no objection to a committee that will work in conjunction with this board," added Director W. H. Edwards, "but if this committee is to be the last word, I'm against it. I don't see why we should delegate our responsibility to any other body."

"It won't do any harm to bring the names of this committee before the board for approval," said President Floyd Gray, "we've talked to representative citizens and they are willing to accept with the understanding that they shall sit with the building committee and will not have final judgment."

WORD BATTLE FOLLOWS

The members opposed to the project objected to the reading of the names of the citizens selected until the question was settled, and after a vote was taken and showed a majority of one in favor of accepting the report, the question was reopened by Director Edwards and further discussion followed.

"I know this thing is going through," cried Director Campbell, regardless of my vote or desires. You can go ahead, but I'm on record as opposed to it."

"I take exception to Director Campbell's remark," cried Director Edwards.

"We expected your opposition," added President Gray to Campbell.

An agreement was finally entered into to reconsider the question at a meeting of the committee of the whole tomorrow morning. Another wordy battle was precipitated when Director Pease attempted later to read the names of the citizens selected for the committee, and his voice was drowned by cries of protest against the reading of the names.

DEMAND GETS RESULTS

Following a demand from residents of the Stonehurst district that some arrangements for a new school be made in the first building unit, the board last night adopted a report of the building program committee recommending that $20,000 out of the unallotted $50,000 of the initial sale of bonds be devoted to Stonehurst and that work on a new Stonehurst school be commenced as soon as construction on other urgently needed buildings provided for in the initial sale of bonds is under way.

Acting as spokesman for the Santa Fe Improvement association, Fred Shaw appeared before the board last night and asked that immediate action be taken to secure a site at Fifty-eighth and Grove streets for a new junior high school. The request brought out the fact from members of the board that since the site was announced as a probable purchase, great activity has been evidenced on the property with the probable idea of an increased price being asked for the land. The purchase question will be considered at tomorrow's meeting of the committee of the whole.

HOME MEAL HOURS FIXED IN CITY LAW

VIENNA, Nov. 25.—As a further economy in coal the city government has altered Vienna's age old custom of the midday meal hour. Households in even numbered houses must dine at 11:30 and those in odd numbers at 12:30 p. m. As most of the houses are very dark at this season even at midday, lighting is necessary and it is hoped that by this measure to avoid the excessive pressure on the power plants between 12 and 1 o'clock.

Plums, peaches, prunes, cherries and apricots are plant world cousins, all belonging to the genus prunus.

POULTRYMEN ELECT.

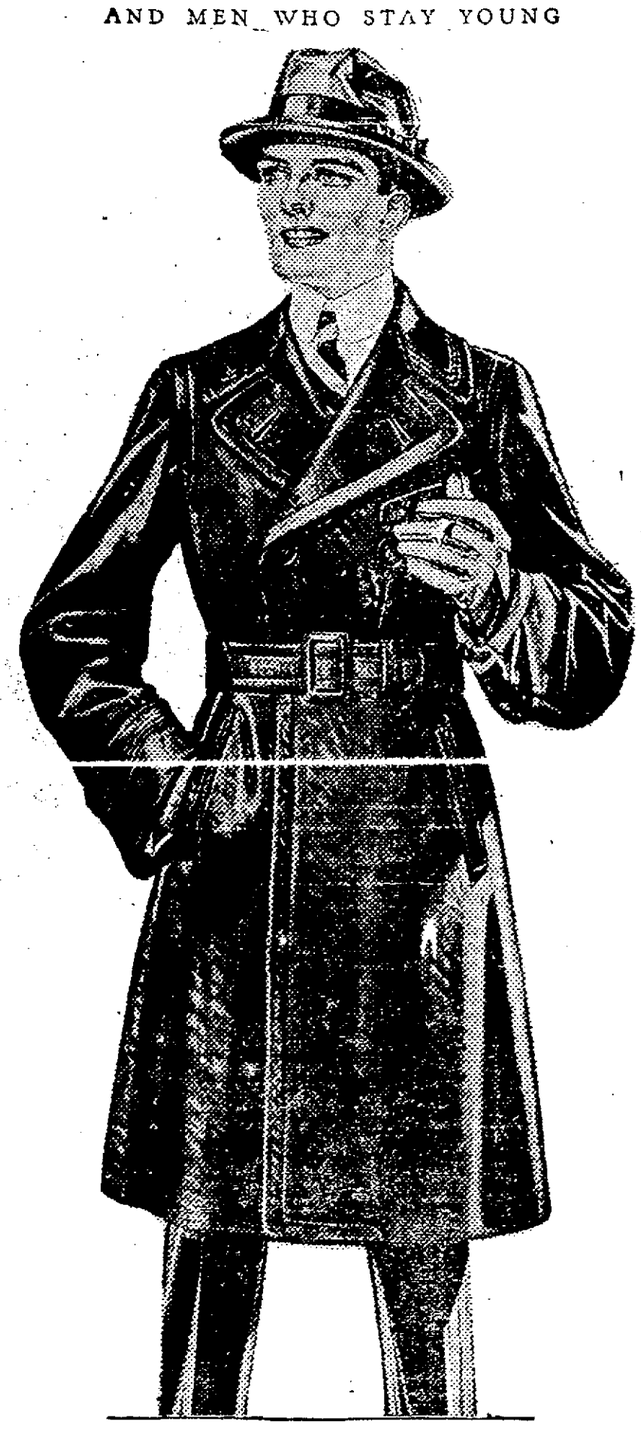

PETALUMA, Nov. 25.—The Poultrykeepers' Association of Petaluma has elected its officers for the ensuing term as follows: President, S. S. Knight; vice-president, C. E. Fuller; secretary, L. H. Sprauer; treasurer, Knox Boude. Fred Martin, T. G. King, William Spiers and J. C. Hackman are members of the enforcement committee. Are We Soon to Become a Race of Baldheaded Men?

PROF. JOHN H. AUSTIN

Bacteriologist, Hair and Scalp Specialist, of Chicago, Talks Most Interestingly About the Hair.

He says that baldness is increasing rapidly among men, and points out some of the reasons.

Prof. Austin says dandruff causes 70 per cent of the cases of premature falling out of the hair.

Prior to investigations and discoveries of the past few years dandruff was considered simply a collection of scales of the outer cell tissues of the scalp combined with an oily matter. From these careful investigations it has been found that dandruff is a parasite disease of the scalp called "seborrhoea eczema." The parasites that produce this disease grow down into the cylinder-shaped depressions at the roots of the hairs, destroying the hair cells.

Seborrhoea Is "Catching."

By careful experiment seborrhoea was found to be contagious. An ointment was made of vaseline and the scales from a man's head and was then rubbed into the backs of guinea pigs. The pigs contracted the disease and became bald. Likewise the disease has been contracted by man and wife, either wife or husband being free from it before marriage.

By Prof. Austin the roots of the hair are examined with a powerful microscope. This examination discloses the trouble with YOUR HAIR and then tells you what to do for that trouble.

This examination is entirely FREE.

He says the use of dandruff cures, mange cures, vaseline and hair tonic is like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure. The particular trouble with which your scalp is afflicted must be known before it can be intelligently treated.

SCHOOL BOARD IS TOLD PAST CLAIMS LAPSE

Indicating that the Board of Education probably will be unable to secure any reimbursement from the county because of the withdrawal of operative property for State taxation, by reason of the fact that the school district has derived certain benefits from the exclusion of such properties from county assessment, District Attorney Ezra Decoto last night filed with the school board a reply to the request for an investigation into funds alleged to be due the district from the taxation change made by an amendment to the State constitution in 1911.

"It will be impossible for me to give you an immediate answer in regard to the Oakland school funds," read Decoto's official reply. "I can, however, say at this time that there is considerable doubt in my mind as to whether the school board is entitled to the money that you mentioned, because there are certain benefits that the school district has derived from the doing away of State taxation, and it will be a matter of considerable computation to determine exactly how much they have lost, if anything.

LAPSE BEYOND YEAR.

"I will say, however, that the sum that will be due them will not be anywhere near the amount that I noticed mentioned, because all sums which might have been paid to them prior to one year will have lapsed, as the right of action against a county lapses after one year. I am giving the matter my earnest attention, and just as soon as we have gone thoroughly into it, I will again take it up with you."

Following the reading of the report President Gray asked that the investigation be speeded up so that the money that may be due from last year shall not be lost by another lapse, which will occur unless the demand is settled by next month, and the suggestion was adopted by the board.

"There may be a legal reason why the county can get out of paying what is justly due," said Gray, "but there is still a moral obligation. I don't see how the district attorney of this county can rule so different from the legal officials of at least seven other counties. The officials of this county will look into Section 424 and Section 425 of the Political Code; they will see that they should go further than the opinion of the district attorney. The district attorney is the legal adviser of the board of supervisors, but he is not ours."

URGE LOCAL TALENT

A petition from a group of Oakland architects asking that local talent be retained by the board in the construction of buildings under the program outlined following the $5,000,000 bond issue was presented to the board last night and referred to the committee of the whole. The architects signing the petition offered their services in an advisory capacity.

Mrs. Alma Ward, chairman of the advisory board of the Oakland Federation of Mothers' clubs, presented an appeal from the Dewey School "slow" signs in the vicinity of the school.

Rose Valen, 11 years old, spokesman of the students of the Prescott school, received a generous round of applause when she addressed the board in a plea for a school auditorium and a playground sufficient to accommodate the students. According to the youthful appellant, the students of the school are growing larger and the playground is growing smaller through the encroachment of temporary buildings. Her request was duly considered and recorded.

U. S. PLANS SALE OF DESERT FARMS

YUMA, Ariz., Nov. 25.—The United States government will sell at public outcry here December 10 about 500 farms, comprising 6400 acres, the first unit in the Yuma Mesa 47,500 acres, occupying a portion of the Colorado desert lying south of the Gila Valley between Yuma valley and the mountains to the east.

These lands are to be sold at a minimum of $225 an acre and, regarded as forestless, are said by some to be the best citrus lands in the United States.

The government, it is announced, will construct the irrigation works and canals necessary to put water on the land.

BANKER WHO FLED S.F. TONG WAR DIES

Look Tim Eli, president of the China Mail Steamship Company, refugee in China from his enemies in a Chinatown feud, prominent banker and for years prior to his flight a resident of Oakland, died in Hongkong today. The private cable announcing the death of the Chinese financier did not state the cause.

Following the outbreak of the tong war in San Francisco last December, in which the threat of death was made against all the officers of the China Mail Steamship Company, Eli was hurried from the Fairmont Hotel in an ambulance and taken in where he boarded the S. S. China en route to the Orient.

The other directors of the company took refuge on the top floor of the Cartwright Hotel and announced that they had departed for China. Later they took an exclusive residence in Marysville, where they lived under heavy guard until the war was ended.

The trouble grew out of the purchase of the salvaged hull of the steamer Congress. The reconstructed hull was purchased by the China Mail at a cost of $2,500,000 and became the steamer Nanking. The minority stockholders of the company became dissatisfied and the war developed between them and the majority stockholders. The war involved a run on the Chinese Bank and accounted for the lives of seven Chinese, the wounding of many others, including a white man and woman. The tongs involved were the Sen Suey Yen, representing the minority, and the Hep Sens, representing the majority of the company.

Eli lived at 415 Perkins street, Oakland.

Two Denied Right to Ride on Motorcycle

When Lawrence Gehrell and Jacob Grossman, youths charged with exceeding the speed limit on a motorcycle, appeared in the juvenile court before Judge Lin S. Church their licenses were taken away and they were ordered to refrain from driving a motorcycle, automobile or other vehicle for a year.

One of them asked if they could ride home on their bicycles, but Judge Church refused them even this concession.

The arresting officer testified they were traveling more than fifty miles and hour because he himself was going faster than that and for a considerable time could not catch them.

High School Boys Will Give Stunts

"Old clothes day" will be celebrated by pupils of the University High School tomorrow noon, a program of games and "stunts" having been for some days in preparation. A relay race between members of the faculty and the student body is to furnish the initial divertisement. A pie-eating contest, a baby-bottle milk-drinking contest and other similar competitions are to follow. A portion of the time will be given over to yell and song practice. F. H. Boren, Coach Church, Ben Buzzard and others will speak.

Dairymen Will Keep Tab on "Old Bossy"

SAN JOSE, Nov. 25.—Plans for the formation of a cow testing association so that each dairyman may know whether or not each animal in his herd is a profit producer, will be outlined at a meeting of the San Jose Milk Dealers in the assembly hall of the Chamber of Commerce tonight. The meeting has been called by the California Dairy Council, according to an announcement made today by F. E. Wehner secretary of the local dealers' association.

WEDDING AT ST. FRANCIS HOTEL

The marriage of a former Miss Head's pupil and a San Franciscan took place at high noon Saturday at the St. Francis hotel, when Miss Marian Claire Hinckley and James Henry Tuttle, son of Mrs. George Tuttle of San Francisco, were married. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Clayton Hinckley, Pocatello, Idaho. The service was read by Rev. W. K. Guthrie in the presence of a dozen close friends of the bride, and following the serving of the wedding breakfast the couple left on a tour of the southern part of the state.

On their return the couple will reside in San Francisco and Mill Valley, where the bridegroom has an attractive home.

Mrs. Tuttle attended Miss Head's school in Berkeley and later completed her education at the Sargent school in New York.

Not since before the war has Chancel Chapter given such an extensive affair in so original a setting. The articles for sale were placed each within their respective setting, while presiding were many members of the chapter who have worked for the past year in completing the necessary household articles.

School Teachers In Oakland Get Voice in Affairs

By EDNA B. KINARD

A few years ago but little was thought of the classroom teacher. She was in that uncertain position when few spoke for her and few against her save as perhaps the lazy youth whose thick skull she tried to pierce with a glimmer of understanding of "three R's" or the saucy Miss who was interested in other things than reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic. But along came a class consciousness. Along now has come an elevation to the council of the Superintendent of Schools. The classroom teacher is recognized as a very important factor in the administration of public school matters. Oakland School Women's Club, made up entirely of classroom teachers totaling some 300 or more, with Miss Lulu Shelton at the head, sends presently to the personnel council of Superintendent Fred Hunter its own representative in the person of Miss Mary Friedrich, member of the faculty of the Oakland high school.

Oakland is perhaps the first city in which this participation in administrative affairs has been extended directly to the classroom teacher. The naming of Miss Friedrich to hold the position was accomplished on her record and on the endorsement of the School Women's Club. The term of her appointment is one year.

Another upward step in the development of the classroom teacher is the privilege which has been extended in Oakland of taking examinations for appointment to principleships. The first of these tests will be held shortly. At the December meeting of the School Women's Clubs the whys and wherefores, the rules and regulations will be gone into thoroughly by a representative of the superintendent's office.

The organized women of the school room have demonstrated their influence and judgment in the recognition which has been accorded to them.

Nothing brings memories of home so quick as pie. Be it mince or pumpkin or just pie, its spell is irresistible. Adelphian clubwomen know it. Moreover, they are famous for their pastries. When discussions of Thanksgiving arose, immediately they began to wonder if they ought not to bake pies. Then having decided that they ought to have considered to whom those great, flakey confections should be sent. There was just one answer. The lads in Letterman hospital. That is why tomorrow afternoon there will be a pilgrimage to the Presidio led by Mrs. John Merrill, Mrs. J. Maurice Johnson, Mrs. A. J. Burgner and Mrs. W. H. Stanley. They will pilot the great baskets of pies—all tied up in tissue paper and red ribbons with a bit of holly to make it known that it is holiday time. It will not take the boys long to discover it.

The stories of goodies will be marshaled in the Alameda clubhouse tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Minna McGauley, whom Ebell hails as president, comes home this week. It will be a royal welcome which will greet her, for Mrs. McGauley is beloved of her club sisters, who when her resignation was tendered some weeks ago because of her continued absence in Canada flatly refused to consider any such action, and returned it to her with their determined answer. Mrs. McGauley's absence has not been for pleasure but necessity. Her delayed debut as Ebell's chosen leader will be the occasion of a notable reception. Mrs. William Nat Friend, first vice-president, has been acting as executive since the opening of the club season.

Mrs. A. C. Baumgartner was presiding hostess this afternoon when Eugenia Buyko, singer-dancer, presented a Russian program, interpreting the spirit of that country in art, in a remarkable group of numbers. She was assisted at the piano by Jack Rantz, pianist.

To seek out the Reds, to make bungalow aprons, caps and dainty bits of feminine adornment to frame the pictures in the classrooms is the holiday task of the mothers in the Frick Parent Teacher Association.

Americanization means something vital to these women. They have summoned all the women of the neighborhood to their conference on the third Friday in December to talk of ways and means of detecting and suppressing those among their community whose tendencies are toward radical unpatriotic thought.

Then to show the girls of the school who have announced a big bazaar for December 12 how interested the mothers are in their efforts, the association appropriated $15 of their funds with a determination to see how far even in these days of inflated prices the little sum will carry in the purchase of ginghams, cretonnes and dimities. Deft fingers of the home department women will transform the materials into aprons, caps and necessities which will make other women want to buy them, and turn into the treasury of the girls a goodly fortune to carry out the purposes for which the last days of school bazaar is planned.

Moreover, mothers believe that the educational pictures which adorn the classroom walls should be appropriately framed. As each room has a showing of some three, the task is no small one. However, it will be the mothers Christmas gift to the school.

Goldfish, silverfish and top minnows feed on mosquito larva and their introduction into swamps has been found to be beneficial.

BLAZE LEAVES FAMILY DESTITUTE

As the result of the fire which Saturday afternoon destroyed the home of Manuel Abrieu, Mabel Abrieu, 14 years old, who risked her life to save her 3-year-old brother and 5-year-old sister, will probably have to discontinue her school work and help the family earn the money with which to replace the little home at 2766 East Eighth street.

Not only all furniture and clothing, but the savings of many years, which consisted of $100 in currency, were lost. The insurance had lapsed a few days before the fire.

The Abrieu family is a family of workers. Manuel Abrieu works in a factory in Melrose. Mary Abrieu, the mother, and two daughters work in the cotton mills, while another daughter works in a harmonica factory near the home that was destroyed Saturday. The loss suffered from the fire represents the savings of the entire family, not one of the members having saved anything excepting the clothes they had on Saturday afternoon. At present the family is staying with a daughter, Mrs. Mary Sousa, 2127 Thirty-fourth avenue.

Poultry Raiser Declares 'Ma and Me' Can't Produce Eggs for 60 Cents a Dozen

Admitting that he and his wife have learned many things by reading The TRIBUNE, a subscriber writing from Alamo asks for information as to the best means of bringing the price of eggs to 60 cents a dozen. He writes that he is engaged in poultry raising on a small scale, but has been unable, he says, to "figger" out how he can bring the price of eggs down so that it will meet with the approval of the Berkeley women who have declared war on eggs at 85 cents a dozen.

The letter:

"Dere Mr. Editor: Ma and me have been taking your paper for quite a spele and we have learnt quite smart of things by readin it, so 'ma and me' thought we would like to ask for some information about poultry raisin, seing as we have a few poultry of our own, now there are some nice wimen in Berkly, (and they must know a lot seing they live in the town with the University school) and they say that no body ought to pay 85 cts a doz for eggs they say the eggs ought to sell for 60 cts. now Ma and Me we never lived in a university school town so we had no chanct to get a verry big edcotion, but we have been trying to figer out how we can sell our eggs for 60 cets when it costs us 75 cts to get them you see it was this way. last spring Ma and Me we bought 400 baby chicks for 6000—sixty dollars, and 2300 twenty three dollars worth of feed stuff. well that lasted them till they was 6 weeks old. by that time about 80 of them died. I wanted to kill all the roosters as soon as we could tell which was roosters. as it would not pay to keep these with feed so high but ma could not bare to see the little inocent thinks killed, so we kept en sold them some at 3 months and some at 4 just about even half of them was roosters well we just about come out cleear on there what we paid for them and the feed so now we have about 160 one hundred and sixty young hens 8½ months old laying from 2½ to 3½ doz eggs a day. now it cost us 75 cts a day for feed since they was 6 weeks old and $2300 the first 6 weeks and 6000 to start with. now I would like for some of these edicated women to figer out about when we can sell eggs enough to get all that money they cost back (for we still feed them 75 cts worth a day) and get that bank account started they tell about then there is all the money we invested in pens, brooder house, hen house, feed house, ect and all our work besides I would sure like to have some one that knows how it can be done with any profit and sell eggs cheaper than they are. Ma and Me cant afford to eat eggs as it costs to much to raise em

HE DREADED TO SEE NIGHT COME

Felt Worse in Morning Than When He Went to Bed—Gains Twenty Pounds Taking Tanlac

"It sure was a lucky day for me when I [illegible] taking Tanlac" said Leo Prettner, an employee of the Hammond Lumber Company, who resides at 175 Astor street, Watts, Cal., to a Tanlac representative recently. Continuing he said:

"About four years ago I began to suffer with stomach trouble. Everything I ate would sour and gas would form, and I would have the worst sort of pains. I would become terribly nauseated and soon got so I could not retain a thing, not even water or milk. I would have vomiting spells after every meal that would last for hours, and I could scarcely get around. Often when I went home from work my wife would have tempting dishes prepared hoping it would induce me to eat a little something, but I would have to leave the table without eating a mouthful, for the very sight of food would make me sick. I went on a milk diet for a while, but that did me no good, as I could not keep it down. I never knew what it was to get a good night's sleep, for I was so weak and nervous I could not sleep but a few minutes at a time. At this time I was mining in Yellowpine, Nev., and when I had fallen off from 185 to 165 pounds I gave up my job, for I was so weak and run down I could not work. I was afraid I had tuberculosis and came here to California hoping the change would do me good, but it did not, for I was just as bad as ever and was so weak and nervous I would just tremble like a leaf, and I would dread to see night come for I would get up feeling worse than when I went to bed. I had taken all sorts of medicine, but they seemed to make me worse, instead of better.

"Before I left Yellowpine I had a friend who had been in a condition similar to mine, and he told me Tanlac had saved his life, and urged me to try it. But I did not, for I was discouraged and disgusted with all [illegible] ones. Well, one night after coming here I read a statement of a man who was relieved by it who had been in the same condition I was and then I remembered my friend's advice and next day I started taking Tanlac, and by the time I had finished two bottles I was a great deal better and when I had taken three bottles I knew I was getting well. I began to eat again and my stomach was in fine shape. All the gas and nausea left me entirely. I began to sleep well again, and all my nervousness disappeared. I have used seven bottles now and am back at work feeling as strong and good as I ever did in my life. I have gained twenty pounds in weight and feel ten years younger than I did a year ago. If I had only taken my friend's advice when he recommended Tanlac I sure would have been saved a lot of suffering."

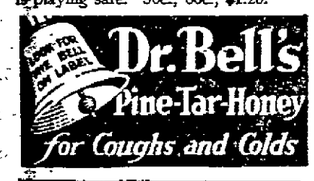

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

TRAIN YOUR HAIR AS AN ACTRESS DOES.

No class of people devotes as much time to beauty as do actresses and no class must be more expert to retain and develop their charms. Inquiry develops the information that in hair care they find it dangerous to shampoo with any ordinary shift hair cleanser. The majority say that to have the best hair wash and scalp stimulator at a cost of about three cents, one good egg application of cocoanut, from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water and your shampoo is ready. This leaves each shampoo liquid to apply it to all the hair instead of to the top of the head. After its use the hair dries rapidly, with uniform color. Dandruff, excess oil and dirt are entirely dissolved and entirely disappear. Then you arrange the hair [illegible] you'll be surprised how soft, fluffy it will look and how [illegible] its lustre and softness will delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which ensures hair growth.—Advertisement.

TAXI DRIVER'S SLAYERS HELD

SAN FRANCISCO NEWS

NEW PACIFIC CABLE PLANNED

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25.—Without a trace of remorse after facing in court the widow and two young sons of the man they admit murdering, Lawrence McCarthy, Gordon Tescher and John Helm today are held to answer in superior court for the slaying of Michael Needham, taxicab driver, following a preliminary hearing yesterday afternoon before Justice of the Peace W. J. Smith.

They showed no signs of worrying over [illegible] to escape the extreme penalty for their crime. Dr. F. Holmes Smith testified that Needham died from strangulation caused by the forcing of a gag down his throat, and [illegible] with a hammer.

OPIUM IS LEFT UNDER HIS PILLOW.

It was a woman that encompassed the downfall of Soon Fat, who as a waiter on the Shinyo Maru enjoyed prestige and honored his ancestors. The woman, a first cabin passenger, Miss Frances Nikoeen, reported to the authorities that Soon Fat was exercised about a sack she had found under her pillow. She said the Chinese had offered her $150 to keep silence. In the pillow, the ship's officers found sixty-two tins of opium. As the opium was found before the ship came within the three mile limit, a question of jurisdiction has arisen.

SECOND PACIFIC CABLE CONSIDERED.

Laying of a second Pacific cable is an enterprise under investigation by Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union company, who is in this city to study the possibilities. The cable, Carlton said, would have a terminus at San Francisco, leave the coast at Seattle and end at Japan. It would be half the length of the present one, Carlton said. Accompanying the president are J. C. Welliver, vice-president of the company's commercial interests, W. N. Fashbough, vice-president of traffic; Major York, vice-president of plants; Dr. O. H. Doty of the medical staff, and William Metley, secretary.

IT'S TIME TO SAY, "I TOLD YOU SO."

Now is the time for one of Gilbert Goff's former teachers to say "I told you so." It was due to his bad spelling that one of his two attempts yesterday to defraud banks in San Mateo county by using the telegraph failed. He entered the Western Union office in this city and wired the First National bank at Redwood City, authorizing the payment of $500 to himself. He also telegraphed the Sequoia hotel, Redwood City, advising himself that there was $500 waiting him at the bank. This attempt failed because the Western Union girl noted that he spelled it "Readwood City." She became suspicious. While the manager telephoned to verify Goff's story of his identity, Goff took to his heels. A similar effort later in the day was frustrated by the quick wit of Miss Gertrude Harting, receiving clerk. The manager for the telegraph company thrust a revolver at Rogers when he attempted to make a get-away.

KNIFE MAY SEPARATE TWO LITTLE BOYS.

When Lucio Godino wants to get up in the morning and Simplicio Godino doesn't, there's likely to be war, because what one does the other must. The 11-year-old boys, who are exciting much attention at the Hotel St. Francis, are joined together, just above the hips. The youngsters, Filipinos, were brought to this city by Teodoro R. Yangoo, resident commissioner for the Philippine Islands in congress and former president of the Philippine chamber of commerce. The boys pay about and seem not to mind their forced attachment. Surgeons have said that they can be separated by an operation, but a further report from Johns Hopkins university is awaited before an attempt is made.

BUSHMAN PROVES ABILITY ON STAGE

When Francis X. Bushman stepped down from the silver screen onto the stage at Ye Liberty Playhouse last night it was the audience rather than the matinee idol which impressed. That audience was small; the first night was put over a yawning cavern with empty seats answering back the most eloquent lines of him who has filled movie houses over the land and been dreamed of as the prince in many a girlish heart. It was test enough for any talent, for the first night so far as the pit was concerned was little more than a dress rehearsal. Bushman and his interesting company had no help from the rows and rows of folded chairs. The pall settled down on those who were there and reached even in time over the footlights to the men and women who were living out the history of "The Master Thief."

Yet Bushman is a favorite. Bushman's name is magic in the film world. Beverly Bayne, too, dark, vivacious, more than pretty, has her followers. There were others, too, in the cast whom the screen welcomes.

DELIGHTFULLY NATURAL.

"The Master Thief," founded on an incident in the "Paymaster" stories of Richard Washburn Child, has been put in dramatic form by Edward E. Rose. Oliver Morosco presents the company in the true Morosco style. Washburn is the Paymaster, the gallant, high souled, omnipresent hero, about whom the exciting tangle revolves. It would be simple to make the remarkable youth into a conceited, over-bearing, improbable character. But Bushman does none of those things. He is a delightfully natural man, intent upon getting his revenge, righting wrongs and saving from disaster the father of the girl whom he loves. There are plenty of thrills and tense moments. There is the big last scene with the flashing lights all over the island which calls James Warder, played by Fritz Adams in a delightfully simple manner by the way, from death when he sees state prison looming before him because he has been caught in the net of the villain, before his daughter, Alice Warder, sails away with the master thief in his airship to "live happy ever after."

Beverly Bayne is the heroine—Alice Warder—a western girl, whom not only the hero but the villain loves. It is this romance which lends color and interest to the plot, which has to do with detectives, plotters and counter-plotters. If the author had not written so many fine speeches and expected his men and women to have uttered them, those who had listened would have forgotten the more easily that the play was a play. No art could cover up the strain of a few of the situations which strove for effect and lost strength in the striving. A blue penciling would make more convincing drama.

ACCUSES HUSBAND OF CRUEL CONDUCT

Roman Burkhart, a German, flew into a rage when her daughter by a former marriage purchased Liberty bonds and declared that she had no right to help this government fight against his relations, according to one of the allegations made by Mrs. Mary Burkhart in her suit for divorce on file today.

The divorce complaint also includes charges that her husband suggested that they all commit suicide and end it all; that he was extremely jealous of her children and that he abused his own children by striking them and knocking them down. Burkhart also falsely accused her of undue intimacy with other men, says the wife, who asks that she be granted $60 a month alimony and costs of suit with custody of the [illegible] and a division of the community property, consisting of household goods. They were married in Oakland on November 18, 1907.

MOTHER CURED OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Son Saved From Surgeon's Knife

The following testimonial tells what the Y. L. Chan herb treatments did for one family:

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

After treating with four American doctors in Portland and seven in San Francisco, I was told that an operation was the only thing that could possibly save me.

Dr. Y. L. Chan, after a pulse diagnosis, said that I had a bad case of kidney and bladder trouble, and after three herb treatments I began to improve after two years of suffering. In six months my weight increased from 115 pounds to 185.

Dr. Chan has also cured me of eight attacks of ptomaine poisoning, having had it so badly that my tongue was swollen so I could not talk and I was temporarily blind.

In January of this year my eleven-year-old son had blood poisoning in his knee while staying with my sister. She called an American doctor, who said that the boy's only chance was an operation, and he might not survive that.

I called Dr. Chan and in a little over a week the discoloration was gone and the boy was able to walk, though his leg had been drawn up until his heel touched his hip and it was impossible for him to straighten it out. Today he has the complete use of both legs. An operation would probably have resulted in the loss of one leg if not his life.

Housewives of the Country Stick to Their Work Even When Physically Unfit

Printers, longshoremen and miners may leave their jobs to enforce their demands, but the American housewife keeps loyally at the duties of her home as long as her strength holds out. In every city and hamlet there are many women who keep at their tasks with difficulty. They are living and working on their "nerve." Their blood is weak and thin, slight effort exhausts them, they have dizzy spells and headaches, food distresses them and noise upsets them. They suffer from anemia, a condition of thin blood, which is responsible for the headaches, digestive disturbance and exhaustion of which they complain.

The story of Mrs. Lena Buck, Missoula, Mont., is typical of many other cases. She says:

"About a year ago I was completely worn out by worry and overwork. My blood was so thin that I was without color. I lost strength and weight and nothing seemed to help me. I suffered greatly from headaches. Sometimes they were sharp piercing pains and at other times a dull ache. The least little exertion, such as walking upstairs, left me so weak that I had to sit down. I suffered from heart fluttering and shortness of breath. My appetite was poor and my sleep was broken and unrestful.

"A friend who had taken Dr. Williams' Pink Pills with benefit recommended the remedy to me and I procured a box. I was so run down that the relief was slow, but it was steady and finally complete. My color returned and I gained strength and weight. I seldom have a headache now and feel better in every way than I have for a long time. I strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to those in need of a tonic."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 60 cents per box postpaid on receipt of price. Write for the free booklet "Building Up the Blood."—Advertisement.

YORK MADE CHIEF CLERK FOR BACCUS

Laid off late last evening by Commissioner of Public Works Frederick Soderberg, Ralph E. York, chief clerk in the Department of Public Works, was this morning appointed to a similar position in the Department of Streets by Commissioner of Streets W. J. Baccus. His salary was fixed by the City Council this morning at $225 a month.

Commissioner Soderberg's action in laying York off last night came as the climax of long-standing dissension between the commissioner and his chief assistant, who have hardly been on speaking terms for months, and Commissioner Soderberg declined until yesterday to take any action to remove York and allow him to be appointed to the position held open for him in the Department of Streets.

York last night received the following notice from his superior:

"Kindly be advised that you are hereby laid off from your employment as chief clerk in this department. Said layoff is to become effective November 24, at 5 p. m. This layoff is ordered by reason of the fact that you have failed to perform sufficient work in the department to justify your retention upon the city payroll."

York automatically took place on the Civil Service eligible list, and this morning Commissioner Baccus named him to the office of chief clerk in the Department of Streets, which was created for York some months ago, and introduced the ordinance fixing his salary at $225 a month.

HARD LUCK DOGS DAYS OF YOUTH

Having already been in jail exactly six months today without trial, Raymond Lynch appeared in the superior court this afternoon armed with a report of the probation officer that he had been punished enough. Lynch, who is colored, is accused of stealing a suit of clothes and watch from Henry Detleff of 2457 San Pablo avenue. According to Leonard Compton, probation officer, hard luck dogged the days of Raymond Lynch beyond the power of any man to consider complacently. Compton reported thus to Judge James G. Quinn:

"Lynch has a convincing story to tell of coming to Oakland with $400 in cash in his pocket, but unfortunately the train in which he traveled ran past the justly famous 'Main Event' in Seventh, near Pine street, and he was tempted of the devil to try his luck. Losing $100 in twenty minutes shooting craps, playing black jack and stud poker did [illegible] wrong, so he tried again at a place called 'Nuby's' near by and lost some more. He slept on the episode overnight and next morning shot away the balance of his roll.

"He sold his clothes for $30 and with this bit tried again, selecting a Chinese lotteryman for variety, and he took the Chinaman for $90. In settlement of this claim he accepted $88.25, the Chinese in a true spirit of patriotism holding out the balance for war tax."

JURY NOW HEARING AUTO WRECK SUIT

Three damage suits aggregating $17,640 against Thomas M. Gardner, growing out of an automobile accident, opened before a jury in Judge A. F. St. Sure's court today. Two suits are brought by Mrs. Grace A. Pingree, one for $10,275 on behalf of Leonard W. Pingree, who died as the result of injuries received and the other for $5,217 damages for alleged injuries received by herself. The third suit is brought by Ruth Wessel, a passenger in the Pingree car, for $2148 damages. The three suits are being tried at once by agreement.

'Omit Turkey' Is Decision Of Housewives League in Fighting the High Costs

"Omit the turkey." Such was the determination of the members of the Housewives' League, who met yesterday afternoon in the Council chambers of the Oakland city hall. The fall of the American bird was due to the rise in costs. The resolution was adopted as a test of the old law in economy which declares the relation between supply and demand.

Milk will be brought down one cent a quart if a committee of women which was appointed by Mrs. L. C. Grasser is successful in its conference with the Milk Distributors' Association.

Oakland Housewives declare that they will buy bread baked in the Eastbay cities and that they will pay not more than 10 and 15 cents a loaf. Formal action was taken after an amendment to "Bake Our Own Bread" was voted down.

"Cut down the consumption for eggs" is the modern terms which the women choose to describe the present boycott which they have instituted. The league members have determined that while eggs remain at the present high cost, they will limit their purchases to the direct necessities.

ASKS LABOR TO AID.

"High prices are due to union labor," charged E. S. Hogan of the Retail Grocers' Association of Alameda County, professing to be in sympathy with labor movements, who was the speaker of the day. The assertion was the signal for a heated debate in which the women strove for the floor in unparliamentary order. "Union labor is cutting down its production asking increased wages. Prices will never come down until production is increased. I call upon union labor to co-operate with us," cried Hogan.

"I cannot let union labor be accused," interrupted Mrs. Grasser. "I know positively that union labor is not at the bottom of this high cost of living.

"In surveys of the Master Bakers meeting in San Francisco," declared a delegate from the Berkeley Housewives' League, one and three quarters points went to labor out of six points," refuting Hogan's statements.

"Is there not food enough in the United States to feed not only our people but the world," queried another.

"Why are prices of eggs cheaper in Los Angeles than here," Mrs. W. T. Cleverdon demanded of the speaker. "Why are prices of eggs in Chicago where it is all frozen up cheaper than in California?"

"Los Angeles is a 'cheap town,' answered Hogan. "Labor is not paid what it is here. I believe in America for Americans," he continued. "Japanese in Los Angeles are driving Americans out of business. Sixty-five per cent of the truck garden is controlled there by the Japanese.

"The brown man has his head who directs. There is no doubt but that he is organized—"

"Under the state market director," cried out one housewife.

Hogan continued: "The brown man here tells the commission man what he can sell his strawberries for because he controls the strawberry industry.

GOING TO PAY MORE

"You are going to pay still more for sugar," Hogan assured the home buyers.

A communication sent from a member of the league gave the information that milk paid for in advance might be obtained for 13 cents, a reduction of one cent.

"We used to have a ticker system, paid for in advance," said one of the speakers. "We can do it again if it will reduce milk prices.

During the discussion it developed that it was bookkeepers and collecters' maintenance rather than wagon drivers' wages which were responsible for the rise. Mrs. E. S. Mitchell, Mrs. S. F. Mikel and Dr. Beth Northington were appointed a committee to wait upon the Milk Distributors' Association.

"A hen pays for herself three times," offered an owner of a backyard flock.

"I cannot sell eggs for less than 55 cents," argued another owner. The two statements furnished discussion concerning the hen which resulted in Mrs. M. E. Jaffa of Berkeley offering the fact to the women that there were more eggs in cold storage than at this same time last year.

"If eggs do not come down in price when we refrain from buying," she said, "it proves that something else interferes with the natural laws.

MISS WHITNEY BARRED, SAYS CHIEF LYNCH

In the face of the city council's failure to pass the emergency ordinance to prevent "red" gatherings a law in Oakland, Chief of Police Frank J. Lynch announced today he would stand firm on his refusal to allow Charlotte Anita Whitney to speak before the Oakland Civic Center gathering Friday.

It was the intention of the police to prevent Miss Whitney from speaking through the enforcement of the new ordinance, which was drafted after a raid on Loring hall and reports of promiscuous radical meetings being held in all parts of the city.

Commissioner of Public Health and Safety F. F. Morse declares he will not interfere with Chief Lynch's determination not to allow Miss Whitney to speak.

"Miss Whitney has known radical tendencies, therefore she cannot speak," said Chief Lynch today. "My decision is final, regardless of the city council's action with the emergency ordinance to prevent radical gatherings."

CHINA LAUDS, JAPAN SCORES U.S. PACT VOTE

By C. H. WEBB.
Special International News Service Correspondent.

SHANGHAI, Nov. 25.—Prominent Chinese officials and Chinese newspapers united today in lauding the United States Senate for rejecting the peace treaty, which automatically carries with it refusal to recognize the grant of Shantung peninsula to Japan.

"It is reaffirmation of America's stand in behalf of justice and right for the weaker nations," declared Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, first provisional president of the Chinese republic.

Many political and economic organizations have united in adopting resolutions of gratitude for American Senate and the American sovereignty."

On the other hand, the Japanese press is bitterly criticizing the American Senate and the American people.

LIQUID WEALTH FLOWS GENTLY ONTO SIDEWALK

"Liquid wealth" flowed across the sidewalk on the west side of the Hotel Oakland this morning and "old-timers" for blocks around sniffed the air and headed straight for the point whence the enticing aroma emanated. An old friend who was believed to have passed some time ago had temporarily taken a new lease of life.

The presence of the stranger, who was John Barleycorn himself, was divulged by an accident. Delegates, who had been attending the meeting of the Mystic Shriners, were preparing to leave for their homes.

Suitcases were piled all over the sidewalk. One suitcase was accidentally dropped and booze christened the sidewalk.

PIEDMONT WILL VOTE ON SCHOOL

With sufficient petitioners having been obtained the people of Piedmont will soon be called upon to vote at a special election for a Piedmont high school district which includes plans for the building of a high school at an estimated cost of $250,000.

Incidentally the building of the new school will mean a saving to Oakland of approximately $5700 a year, as according to figures obtained 142 high school pupils from Piedmont are now attending Oakland schools at a cost to Oakland of $40.52 each, irrespective of the state and county appropriations.

ITALY TO PASS CRISIS SAFELY

ROME, Monday, Nov. 24.—By The Associated Press.)—Peter A. Jay, American charge d'affaires, had a long interview with Premier Nitti today. Neither the premier nor the American Embassy would make a statement relative to the the subjects discussed, but it was indicated that Jay received a favorable impression from the outline Premier Nitti gave of the Italian situation. After his talk with Jay, the premier had an hour's audience with King Victor Emmanuel.

The election has proved to be a safety valve for distontent and political excitement, and it now appears [illegible] the faction staging an upheaval is an insignificant minority of the nation. Socialists who at first were so overcome with joy over their victory that they were uncertain what to do in order to utilize [illegible] with their numerical strength in the new chamber, are listening to the advice of older and more moderate members of their party. It seems these older statesmen will succeed in moderating the situation so that no serious trouble may occur.

It seems that the only really political thorn in the side of the government is the Adriatic question, and efforts are being made to gain American support of proposals looking to a settlement of this matter.

Tries Army and Navy At Same Time; Jailed

Charles L. Smith found the army and the navy "easy pickings" for a while, but is now in jail.

He applied at the army recruiting office in San Francisco for enlistment in the cavalry, citing previous service in the fourth French mortar battalion overseas. Four days later word came back from Washington that there was no record of his previous service. Smith, according to the officers, admitted it, but signed up and started for Monterey. He never arrived. According to the army news service, at the same time he had been receiving food and lodging from the navy.

COFFIN WEIGHS 700 POUNDS.

BURLINGTON, Iowa, Nov. 25.—What is declared to be the largest casket ever made in Iowa was turned out on a special order a few days ago by a local casket company. The war cost $185,000,000,000.

U. C. Agricultural Journal Is Resumed

After having been discontinued since the fall of 1917, because of war conditions, the University of California Journal of Agriculture will renew publication this winter. The Journal is published at Berkeley by the students of the college of agriculture and aims to pupt the agricultural department more closely in touch with the actual farmers of the state and to give the students a general view of the more practical side of farming.

Workers there demanded the privilege of remaining at their posts on German memorial day and when th firm refused to permit this the workmen to the nummer of 400 forced their way into the office of the director and compelled him to keep the plant open.

Columbia Market Deals Hard Blow to H. C. L.

Old H. C. L. and Profiteering received a hard knock yesterday when the new Columbia Meat Market, 461-467 Ninth street, between Washington and Broadway, opened their doors for business.

The market, whose other name is the Chin Wo Company, is without a doubt the most sanitary, modern and thoroughly equipped market in Oakland. The large crowds of shoppers, who are daily taking advantage of the reasonable meat prices offered, find that the Columbia Market has devised new methods and means of giving prompt service and shopping satisfaction.

Quality meats of the highest standard are being sold but the prices come far from being fancy—and they are prices for which you know you are getting value received, and then some.

Tomorrow special attention will be given to the Thanksgiving shoppers and many holiday specials will be featured. The poultry department received today a large shipment of fresh dressed California fancy turkeys, but owing to the unsettled condition of the turkey market at the present time we are unable to quote prices. However, we wish to assure our patrons that our prices will be the lowest in the city considering the high quality of turkeys we have to offer. The turkeys are of all sizes ranging from 10 to 20 lbs.

Visit the Columbia Meat Market tomorrow! You will receive courteous attention, prompt service and will have the satisfaction of purchasing the best in quality meats and poultry at most reasonable prices.

AUSTRIA FACES STARVATION AND ANARCHY RULE

LONDON, Nov. 25.—"Unless speedy assistance is given to Austria the day is near when the whole republic will dissolve in anarchy," writes Lucien Jones, the Vienna correspondent of the Daily Express, in a dispatch from the Austrian capital today. The telegram continues:

"Millions are starving or perishing from cold. If they are not assisted they may rise up in their determination to live and seize everything they can lay hands on."

Francis Lindley, the British high commissioner who has just completed a tour of Austria, was quoted by the Daily Express as saying:

"If food supplies are held up two days longer Austria will be without an ounce of foodstuffs. There is no coal and for weeks past the people have been tearing up park benches for fuel. All the wooden street signs have vanished."

The German emperor received no salary from Germany, but as king of Prussia his annual income was $3,652,196.

RUSSIAN FUND TO BUY ALLIES PROVES GRAFT

RIAZAN, Russia, Nov. 25.—(By Associated Press).—M. Bakromoff, the president of the Soviet here, who raised a "local fund for the purchase of entente imperialist statesmen," has been shot by the extraordinary commission for combatting counter-revolution for misappropriating funds intended for spreading Bolshevik ideas.

According to a newspaper report, Bakromoff made a detailed report to the Riazan Soviet declaring that he had bought Premier Clemenceau of France for 150,000 rubles, President Wilson for 200,000 rubles and the Berlin foreign office for 50,000 rubles.

The commission against counter-revolution discovered that the fund was a swindle and that Bakromoff and two local officials in the mobilization department had pocketed the money.

Bakromoff admitted that he had printed private paper money to the amount of 5,300,000 rubles.

DAILY MAGAZINE PAGE of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE

Clara Morris HAS THIS TO SAY—

"As a man goes out and "looks for trouble," so when one's mind seems dull and slow of action 'tis well to look for an argument, since argument means friction, friction means heat, and if one's tinder is well scorched and very handy, one may catch a spark and fight ensue. See? So when he "who must be obeyed" asked me to fully define the word "courtesy," I sparred for time, laid low for the first person who should cross my path. A male person it was who appeared and, true to habit, I passed the question on:

"How do you define the word 'courtesy'?"

He lifted his brows and in didactic tone answered: "As manner, of course—a charming manner."

I smiled and started graciously out with "To a certain extent you speak by the card—"

When in even more dogmatic manner he added: "The word could not be made to express anything more."

Right there friction began, heat followed, my slow wits began to unlimber. Memory tossed out dates, facts, questions. It was a lovely scrap that followed.

"But, my dear lady, this word was created to express fine manners—"

"Right you are," I cheerfully agreed. "Minstrels and young pages were taught in palace, castle or feudatories court politeness and the rules of ceremonial good breeding. To retire backward from the 'presence' of royalty, never to rest the hand upon the sword hilt in the presence of one's own feudal chief, to remain uncovered while assisting a noble lady to her rocking-horse, palfrey, etc. From all this sprang the word 'courtesy,' literally meaning 'the court manner'—"

"Well, that's what I keep saying," fumed my friend.

NOT MERELY MANNERS

But I cried impatiently: "That word is 600 years old. Can't it have expanded, taken on a better meaning? In those far-away days a beautiful husk of mere manners, it has developed wholesome grain of kindness, and today true courtesy is a matter of the heart, rather than of deportment."

"But where do you find any support, any backing, for such a claim? That is a mere personal fancy—"

"I wish we could take a straw vote," I laughed. "I'm sure we would find thousands believing courtesy to be gentle-mannered thoughtfulness for others. The lamented Hoyle said to card lovers: 'When in doubt, take the trick,' but when an actor is in doubt he takes to Shakespeare. So let us hear Sweet Will on the subject of courtesy. In Shylock I recall:

"'The kindest man'—note that word 'kindest'—'The kindest man, the best conditions and unwearied spirit in doing courtesies.'

"That's not such poor backing, is it?

"The greatest book, Pet. v., 8, says: 'Love as brethren, be pitiful, and be courteous.'

"Again: 'Publius received us, and lodged us three days, courteously.'

"Now, that courtesy was not just manner. Had it been, Publius would have saluted them beautifully, gravely hoped the journey had been without dangers, and so bowed himself away. But, au contraire, courtesy springing from his heart, he received and lodged the worn and weary wanderers for days, and all with such charming manners that the guests mentioned them as courteous."

FROM THE HEART

My friend X chewed the ends of a slightly frosted mustache. I rushed on:

"How about the man sharp-tongued Elizabeth of England called 'the jewel of my dominions,' Sir Philip Sidney? When that 'very parfaite gentile knight' was dying of his wounds at Zutphen, craving water, at great risk a soldier brought him some. Eagerly he raised it, but caught the agonized longing in the eyes of a soldier lying bloody and exhausted near him. And lowering the precious draught from his own parched lips, he passed it to the man, saying:

"Poor fellow, thy necessity is greater than mine.'

"There was loving service, graced—no doubt—by true court manner. 'Love as brethren, be pitiful, be courteous.' I have suspicion that Sir Philip read his Bible 'a maete o' times' before that last day at Zutphen dawned."

I do not think Mr. X was really convinced, for, you know, "He that complies against his will is of the same opinion still." But I am all smiles, for, you see, woman fashion, I was trying to convince myself through his opposition. Well, I'm convinced, all right, that "courtesy" is a beautifully mannered consideration for another and springs from the heart.

CINEMA CLOSE-UPS

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG.

Clara Kimball Young, screen star and noted beauty, is seeking a successor. Miss Young recently announced that she will make but eight more picture productions and retire from the screen and as she will leave a void, one that the average producer will find difficult to fill, she is going to select her own successor in her own way.

"I am going to select a young woman of strong character, no dramatic experience, under twenty years of age, and willing to devote two years to hard work and constant study," says Miss Young.

Miss Young has created over four hundred roles during her nine years on the screen and only recently changed her policy of production to but four pictures a year. When eight have been completed, she will begin a tour of the world, leaving the young woman of her choice to begin where she leaves off.

GRAVES TO WED ANN MAY

Ralph Graves, Griffith star and until very recently playing leads with Dorothy Gish, and Ann May, who has played opposite Charles Ray in several of his most successful photoplays, are engaged to be married. It is more than likely that the Little Church Around the Corner in New York soon will be the locale of the ceremony. Ann May is an heiress. Her home is in Minneapolis, but Ann May is not her real name. She went to Los Angeles about one year ago, after graduating from a Minneapolis school of dramatic art. When she becomes a star she says she will reveal her family connections.

BAY COLLISION FOR FILM

The waters of San Francisco bay soon will be the scene of a premeditated collision between a ferry boat and a steamer. The collision will be made under the supervision of a Lasky director, George H. Melford, who now is engaged in producing "The Sea Wolf," a Jack London classic. Melford will take his entire company of players with him, as most of the members are scheduled to be parties to the collision. When ready for the screen "The Sea Wolf" will bear the Paramount-Artcraft brand. Its cost to the producers will be computed in the six-figure column.

TOWN IN SPOTLIGHT

Two silversheet favorites have brought a Nebraska town into the spotlight. It is known to those who live in it and to the postal authorities as Burchards. Goldie Madden, a fascinating young blonde who rapidly is climbing the payroll ladder of Goldwyn, was born and raised on a farm near the town. Harold Lloyd, Pathe comedian, was born in the town. Pictures weren't heard of in the days when he used to eat turkey on the farm and Goldie went to town to celebrate the Fourth of July. She is known as Harold's country cousin. Today both are appearing before the camera in Los Angeles, Goldie, however, always appears in serious parts.

JUST LIKE HIS DAD

Wallace Reid, Jr., will make his first appearance as a photoplayer in support of his dad, Famous Players-Lasky star, in "The Bear Trap," a picturized version by Will M. Ritchey of Byron Morgan's Saturday Evening Post story. The younger Reid, who is 2½ years old, will play Toodles, Jr.

BALL PLAYERS IN PICTURES

Carl Sawyer and "Irish" Meusel, Major League baseball players, are working in scenes of "The Best of Luck," a Drury Lane melodrama being filmed at the Metro studio in Los Angeles. Sawyer formerly wore a Washington uniform and Meusel is a member of the Philadelphia Nationals.

SESSUE'S NAME IS KINTO

Sessue Hayakawa's real name is Kinto Hayakawa. It is said that he translated Shakespeare into Japanese and played in Japanese theaters on the Pacific Coast long before he was bitten by the movie bug. In his student days in this country he was "an able hand" at baseball, being a crack third baseman on the University of Chicago nine within eighteen months after he saw a baseball for the first time.

Violet Schramm is now doing the heavy lead in Zane Grey's "Desert Wheat."

Doris Pawn, already rated as "a famous star," is 17 years old.

Kathleen Kirkham will be Frank Keenan's leading woman in his next picture.

Lloyd Hughes has been given a [illegible] by Thomas H. Ince as a star.

Kathleen O'Connor, Universal star, is being taught how to dance by Ruth St. Denis.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

THANKSGIVING TABLE.

Every housewife likes to "give a thought" to her table decorations for a holiday feast as well as to the feast itself, and if the matter is all planned out beforehand and the things all laid aside for the purpose it will make the day easier and happier for all concerned.

For those who don't wish to bother very much or who are not in a festive mood, just the ordinary white napery with a jar, a vase or bowl of yellow flowers in the center of the table or a bowl of variegated fruit will serve.

But at slightly more trouble a very pleasing effect may be had by making a lattice of one-inch wide yellow satin ribbon to lay over the white cloth, using a straw farm hat, ribbon-tied, or a flat basket filled [illegible] a pyramid of oranges and red apples on a yellow glass plate may be used. Place a papier mache half-orange shell beside each plate for olives, and a walnut shell for salted nuts. Always bear in mind that sauces, salads, frosting and foods may be fashioned to aid in the color scheme.

A paper pumpkin table suggestion may be of value in solving the problem of a family who boast only a kitchenette and no linen chest. Cover the table top with white crepe paper, using a fall of turkey or pumpkin-bordered paper flouncing. Finish the edge of the table with a paper pumpkin vine, letting the blossoms and tiny pumpkins hang down. In the center of the table put a large pumpkin Jack Horner pie, filling it with inexpensive but appropriate favors.

If the housewife wishes to go back to tradition for her inspiration she may arrange a Puritan table after this fashion:

Cover the table with a gray cloth, paper or satine, using a gray colonial hat filled with yellow flowers for a centerpiece. Pretty gray or yellow china is most suitable, and any pewter vessels that can be brought out from storage or borrowed, if only a single bowl for the hot, spiced apples, adds wonderfully in the final effect.

Still another traditional table is the Pilgrim table. The table is set bare, and polished, with crocheted mats placed modern doyley fashion, under old blue plates, cups and saucers. In an odd blue china or glass bowl in the center place sprays of blue bayberry and sumac. Here again old pewter shows an added charm if available.

An Indian table is beautiful, artistic, but rather expensive. The table is covered with gray, corn yellow [illegible] a beaded strip, six inches wide and long enough to fall over the edge of the table, Greek cross fashion, serves as primal decoration. In the center a terra cotta bowl filled with feather quills and other feathers heightens the effect.

Use birch bark—real or paper—dishes, putting the nuts and olives in papier mache pine cones and chestnut burrs. Use only wooden forks and spoons, serving all foods [illegible] Indian [illegible]. No silver should be [illegible]. Drinks may be served [illegible] [illegible] bowls. The place cards are [illegible] written in [illegible].

ODD FACTS

[illegible]

The flag of Denmark, a plain red banner, [illegible] a white cross, is the oldest flag now in existence. [illegible] years [illegible] Norway and Sweden were united with Denmark under this flag. In the year 1219 King Waldemar of Denmark, when leading his troops to battle against the [illegible] or thought he saw, a bright light in the form of a cross in the sky. He held this appearance to be a promise of divine aid, and pressed forward to victory. From this time he had the cross placed on the flag of his country and called it the Dannebrog—[illegible] of Denmark.

Jimmy-Old-Boy! A Letter-Play by Richard Wightman

A Knight of the British Empire (1)

To J. O. B. New York

Jim, I went up to Carnegie Hall the other evening to hear a young man make a speech. He was a very young man—under thirty—and it was his first speech, or "lecture" as it was called on the program.

The name of the young man is A. W. Brown, but that would mean nothing to you, Jim, if I didn't tell you the other things which go with his name.

Lieutenant Sir Arthur Whitten Brown—you know who that is, don't you, Jim? Of course you do.

He was introduced to the audience as "the greatest navigator in the history of the world," for he it was who guided the course of the Vickers-Vimy aeroplane from Newfoundland across the Atlantic to Clifden, Ireland, with Captain John Alcock, in a little less than 16 hours. As such he is one of the only two men to have ever stood upon the soil of two hemispheres in a single day.

This accomplishment, which is of the utmost importance as a fore-runner of intercontinental aerial communication between England and America, is of the utmost importance to mankind and gained for this American boy his title—Knight of the British Empire.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE by ADELE GARRISON

"Madge! At this hour! What has happened?"

Lillian's voice, staccato, disturbed, came over the wire to the telephone booth at the Pennsylvania station from which I had called her as soon as the "midnight train" which I had taken arrived there. I reflected whimsically that I ought to be flattered to be able to disturb Lillian's almost bombproof poise.

"Nothing especial has happened, dear," I hastened to assure her, "only I thought it best to get this train in."

"Of course you're coming right over," she asserted, then after a moment in which I almost fancied I could feel her anxiety transmitting itself to me across the telephone wires, she shot a pregnant question at me:

"Are you sure you weren't followed?"

"Positive."

Another moment's pause, then with the air of finality which always accompanies Lillian's decision, she spoke again.

"I don't dare let you come over in just any taxi—tell you why when you get here. Now listen carefully. If I can get hold of the man who brought you to the station before and home again—you remember him, don't you?"

"Perfectly," I replied laconically. Could I ever forget that trip to Craigie Manor, and the exciting interview with Allen Drake which was staged there?

A VAGUE IRRITATION

"That's all right, then," a note of satisfaction in her voice. "I'll send him. But if I can't get hold of him I'll find another of our operatives and come after you myself."

"Will that be necessary?" I asked, loathe to put Lillian to so much trouble, although I might have spared myself the question.

"Absolutely," she returned. "Now please stay right in the Long Island waiting room, don't cross over to the Penn side, and I'll be there or send the man as quickly as possible. Goodbye."

The receiver went up with a click as decided as the voice of Lillian herself. I could visualize the swift efficient movements with which she was going about the business of getting me to her home in safety. I felt grateful, of course, for her care of me, but I was just nervous enough to be vaguely irritated as well. It piqued me to have Lillian assume, as she always did, that I needed safeguards thrown around me, and I wondered if my own wits wouldn't have been sufficiently sharp to enable me to traverse the short distance from the station to Lillian's home without these elaborate precautions.

WHO IS THE MAN?

But there was no use wasting time in annoying speculation, so I went to the news stand, bought my favorite magazine, and was soon deep in an absorbingly interesting description of the base hospitals in France.

I always lose track of time when I read, so that when I had finished the article and glanced at my wrist watch—the trick one, in which was concealed the precious paper I was guarding—I was surprised that a half-hour had elapsed since I'd telephoned Lillian. I knew that I might expect her any moment, so I closed the magazine, put it in my small traveling bag, and sat in readiness to greet her.

Another five minutes, and then I noticed a young man in chauffeur's costume come down the stairs from the upper level and look searchingly over the people in the big room. He walked along, scanning each face, and I saw him speak respectfully to three women about my age and size. I could see that each answered him in the negative, and finally he stopped beside me.

"Pardon me, madame," he said, and his voice had an English accent so exaggerated that it almost smacked of the stage, "are you Mrs. Graham?"

"Why do you ask?" I returned frigidly, on my guard in an instant.

"Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Lillian Underwood," he repeated precisely, "requested me to find a Mrs. Graham, who was to be in this waiting room at this time and to bring her to her home."

"I am Mrs. Graham, certainly," I admitted, reassured, but puzzled. "But Mrs. Underwood was to come after me herself."

"I know," deferentially. "But she was prevented. She asked me to give you this."

He took from his pocket a sealed envelope. As I tore it open I recognized both envelope and the monogrammed paper within as coming from Lillian's well equipped stationery cabinet. And the handwriting of the brief note was undeniably that of my friend.

"If madame will please hurry in the reading," urged the chauffeur in a low voice. "Mrs. Underwood advised against delaying long in this room."

Lillian's note was painstakingly, even formally, written. Headed carefully "104 West Eleventh Street, New York City," and the date written out in full, the note ran thus:

"Dearest Madge — My little daughter has been taken suddenly ill, and I cannot come for you. But this man is trustworthy, so do as he asks you, and, above all, do not delay. I will explain when I see you. You must hurry. Lovingly, your friend,

"LILLIAN UNDERWOOD."

I scrutinized the note carefully before I folded it and put it in the envelope. It was certainly Lillian's chirography and note paper, so without further questioning I turned to the waiting chauffeur.

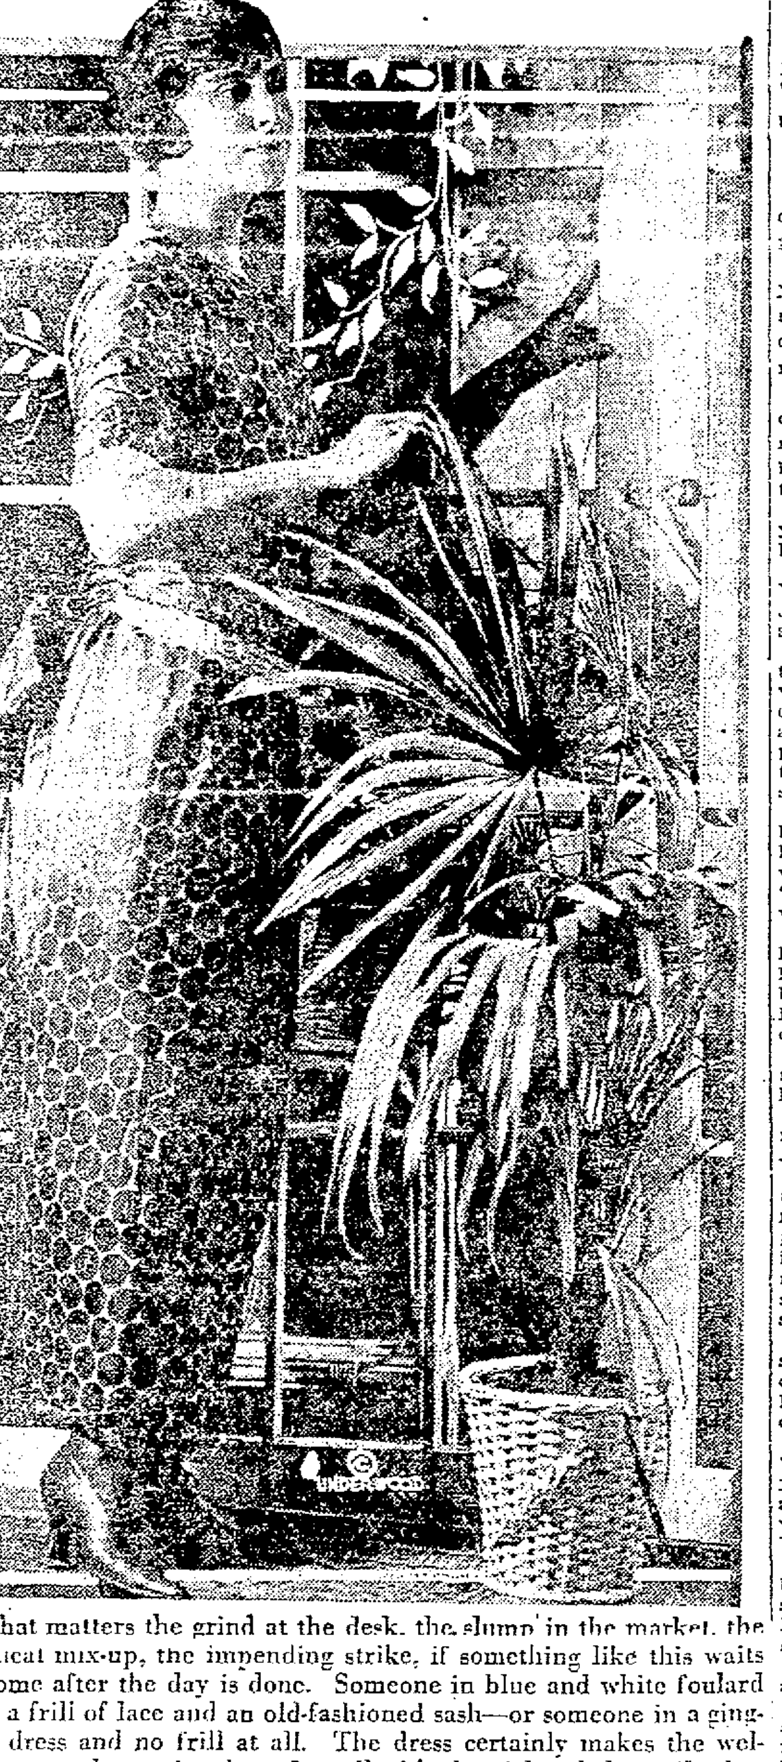

"I am ready now," I said, looking steadily, squarely at him, a habit of mine when engaged in any business dealing with a stranger.

Something inscrutable leaped into his eyes and was gone again before I had time to interpret it. Remembering his injunction of the moment before I decided that most probably the expression was one of relief that I was making haste to leave the room. According to him—and her note—Lillian had advised against delay, and knowing her, I could imagine the stringent instructions she had given him, instructions which it would go hard with him to disobey.

He turned and walked a respectful step or two behind me until we had reached the stairway leading to the taxi course of the big railway station. There he halted me as I put my foot upon the first step.

FASHION FLICKERS by PIERROT

What matters the grind at the desk, the slump in the market, the political mix-up, the impending strike, if something like this waits at home after the day is done. Someone in blue and white foulard with a frill of lace and an old-fashioned sash—or someone in a gingham dress and no frill at all. The dress certainly makes the welcome more decorative, but after all—it's the girl and the smile that puts the heart into it. Fashions may come and fashions may go—but THAT combination goes on forever, praises be! PIERROT.

GARIS' BEDTIME STORY

UNCLE WIGGILY AND BILLIE'S BEANS.

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Tappity-tap-tap!" came a knock on the door of the hollow stump bungalow.

"I wonder who that is?" spoke Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper, as she wiped a dab of flour off her nose, for she was making a cake.

Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy opened the door, expecting to see a peddler, or maybe the rag man, for all I know, but, instead, she saw Billie Bushytail, the little squirrel boy.

"Has Uncle Wiggily gone to school yet?" asked Billie, with a frisk of his big tail.

"Gone to school Uncle Wiggily? What do you mean?" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "Uncle Wiggily doesn't go to school!"

"Oh, but he said he'd go with me this morning," spoke Billie. "I had a very hard example, about how much does one lollypop cost if it takes half a dozen oranges to make one lemon pie? Uncle Wiggily said he'd walk to school with me this morning and show me how to do it."

"Well, and here I am!" cried the bunny rabbit gentleman himself, as he came out of the dining room where he had been eating breakfast. "I'm quite all ready to go to school with you, Billie Boy!"

"Dear me hum suz dud and a basket of soap bubbles!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "And I suppose you'll be buying a pound of lollypops to show Billie how to do that example, Uncle Wiggily"

"Perhaps!" answered the bunny rabbit gentleman with a pinkle of his twink nose.

"Dear me! I never saw such a rabbit! Never!" murmured Nurse Jane.

She went back in the kitchen of the hollow stump bungalow to finish making her cake, and Uncle Wiggily, putting on his tall silk hat and taking his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch under his paw, started off to school with the little squirrel boy.

On the way the bunny rabbit showed Billie how many ice cream cones it takes to make a glass of lemonade, when strawberry shortcakes cost two for a penny.

"Oh, that's easy" exclaimed Billie. "Now I know my lesson!" and he jumped and skipped and scampered about among the dried leaves of the woods through which he and Uncle Wiggily were hopping.

All of a sudden Billie stopped and began picking up off the ground some long, brown pods, which rattled like corn in the popper before you hold it over the fire.

"What have you there, Billie?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"I don't know," answered the squirrel boy, "but it makes a nice rattling noise," and, holding the long, brown pod to his ear, he shook it until it sounded like hail stones, or rain drops on a tin roof. I mean he shook the pod, not his ear.

"Oh, those are bean pods, and the rattling noise is made by the dried beans in the pod," said Uncle Wiggily, when he had taken a look at what Billie held in his paws.

"Are the beans good to eat?" asked Billie.

"No," answered Uncle Wiggily, "they are not. They are too hard and dry. No animals that I know can bite them, not even Grandpa Lightfoot, the oldest squirrel in the woods. But the rattily bean pods have a nice brown color. They grow on big trees and when Jack Frost nips them they fall off, as nuts do."

"I'm going to take some of the bean pods to the lady mouse teacher in school," chattered Billie. "She can put them in a vase and they'll look artistic, as she calls it."

"A good idea," spoke Uncle Wiggily. So Billie gathered a pawful of the long, dried bean pods which rattled about like peas in a tin box. Soon the squirrel boy and Uncle Wiggily were at the hollow stump school.

But no sooner were they there than they knew something had happened. There was the loudest, most sorrowful and sad crying sound they had ever heard.

"My goodness me, sakes alive and some sugar cookies, but what's the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggily of the lady mouse teacher, who was holding her paws up in the air. "Has the Pipsisewah, or the worse Skeezicks, taken any of the children?"

"No, no," answered the lady mouse. "But Squicky-Squawky, the little baby sister of Squeaky-Eeekie, the cousin mouse, has come to school. It's her first day and—"

"I see!" cried Uncle Wiggily with a jolly laugh, as he twinkled his pink nose. "Squicky-Squawky is a baby yet and she is frightened on her first day in school."

"Yes," answered the lady mouse, "she is, and I have played all the kindergarten tricks I know, but still I can't make her stop crying."

"Ha! Perhaps I can," said Uncle Wiggily. "Billie, let me have one or two of your rattily bean pods."

The squirrel boy handed them over. With these pods Uncle Wiggily went to where Squicky-Squawky, the baby mouse, was sitting in her little kindergarten chair.

"Look, Squicky!" said the rabbit gentleman. "Here is a nice rattle box for you. See! It rattles just like the one you had home before you came to school." Then the bunny rattled the dried beans in the pod. Squicky stopped crying. She reached out her little paw for the bean pod. She rattled it to and fro. Then she smiled through her tears, looked up at Uncle Wiggily and said:

"Goo!"

"Now, she's all right!" said the bunny, and so Squicky-Squawky was. All that day she stayed in school and did her kindergarten lessons, and whenever she felt like crying she rattled the bean pod, and it made her think of home, and she was happy. So that's the story of Billie's beans.

The beech, which is found in the temperate zone in Europe, America and Asia, is valuable in medicine for the creosote distilled from its tar. Creosote, creosote carbonate and guaiacol are medicines used to supplement the hygenic measures which have done so much to reduce the death rate in sufferers from pulmonary tuberculosis.

SCHLESINGER HEADS PROBE OF SHIPYARDS

Bert Schlesinger, San Francisco attorney, Democrat and former assistant federal district attorney, was sworn today in the presence of United States District Judge Frank H. Rudkin into the office of special assistant federal attorney general to supervise and investigate possible prosecutions of alleged fraud in connection with federal shipbuilding activities on the Pacific Coast.

One of the most important matters to be investigated by Schlesinger in the immediate future, it was said, is the investigation of charges that the government was defrauded of approximately $1,600,000 by the sale of supplies and equipment of shipyards abandoned by the government on the Oakland estuary shortly after construction was begun.

Notice of Schlesinger's appointment was received today at the office of the United States district court. Schlesinger will make his headquarters in San Francisco, where he will be aided by a large force of assistants. He will have the power to appear before a grand jury and request indictments whenever he believes them to be necessary or warranted.

Food Thieves Loot San Francisco Home

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 25. — Food and not riches were stolen last night by discriminating thieves from the home of George Morakan, 1563 Octavia street, according to a complaint filed with the police today by Morakan. He said the miscreants had forced their way into his home and stolen:

Two boiled hams, one side of bacon, five pounds of butter, three cans of pudding, and several packages of chocolate.

Morakan was overwhelmed by the enormity of his loss and said he could not even place an approximate value on the goods.

Poultry, Pigeon and Rabbit Exhibits at Show Total 5400

With all of the 5400 exhibits in place the fifteenth annual combined poultry, pigeon and rabbit show of the Alameda County Poultry Association and the California Pigeon and Rabbit Association opened at 10 o'clock this morning at the Municipal Auditorium. Almost immediately after the doors opened the judges began the work of passing on the merits of the many exhibits. By noon a fair-sized crowd was passing among the aisles viewing the exhibits.

The exhibits in the rabbit department, along the corridor of the arena, have 1400 entries, including a large exhibit of Himalayan rabbits, the fur of which is as beautiful as ermine and when cured can hardly be distinguished from the rare ermine by experts. The exhibition of 350 Flemish Giants is one of the largest ever held on the Pacific Coast.

The 1800 pigeons include a homing pigeon entered by E. N. Van Antwerp which has made 107 trips to various parts of the State. The bird is used as a messenger by a flour company. Beginning tomorrow short talks will be given on training homing pigeons and the working of the time clocks when the bird is entered in a race.

Over 200 turkeys are found among the 2200 entries of the poultry division. They include several barred and black turkeys as well as many of the ordinary variety, all being apparently unaware of their luck in escaping the Thanksgiving table by being singled out for exhibition purposes.

The daily lectures on "Backyard Poultry Raising" by Charles Weeks of Petaluma begins tomorrow evening and will continue throughout the week. The show closes on Sunday evening.

The judges are: C. G. Hinds, R. R. Moore and W. S. Russell, poultry; W. I. deLong, J. H. Crow, W. Head and E. Smith, pigeons; George Hilton, Hale Prather and Arthur Petty, rabbits.

DORIS MERLE MOORE and her two pets exhibited at the combined show of the Alameda County Poultry, California Pigeon and Rabbit Association which opened today in the Oakland Municipal Auditorium.

MRS. REMILLARD, PIONEER, IS DEAD

After a short illness Mrs. Virginia Remillard, widow of the late Edward Remillard, financier of this city, passed away last night at the old family home, 1575 Webster street. The deceased was prominent in club and social circles about the Eastbay district, the family residing here for more than two score years. Mrs. Remillard was a member of both Home and Ebell clubs and a director of the Fabiola Hospital Association, and member of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Remillard is survived by two sisters, Mrs. V. Gregorie, Mrs. T. Pinsonnault and a brother, Samuel Remillard. Her nieces are Mrs. J. W. Le Gault of this city, Mrs. A. J. Farquhar, Mrs. Eugenie Dabitt, and a nephew, Charles Simard.

Requiem mass will be said Friday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Francis de Sales, followed by interment in St. Mary's cemetery.

Harry Boyle Proud When New Son Born

Harry Boyle, former school director and well-known politician, is the center today of any group of conversationalists in which he finds himself. The talk just naturally drifts to Boyle's new son, born this morning. When pressed, Boyle will admit that he's been a grandfather for four months and has a niece who is older than one of her uncles. Dr. Lee Smith is a son-in-law. Judging from Boyle's smiles, mother and child are doing nicely.

UNIFORM CHARGES FOR STEVEDORING

Announcement made this morning to the effect that hereafter both sides of the bay will be on an equality in the matter of stevedoring charges, is regarded by officials of the Chamber of Commerce as an important step in establishing the status of Oakland as a port.

Such an arrangement has been made with the Waterfront Employers' Union of San Francisco as a result of the work of the harbor development committee.

OAKLAND ON EQUALITY

The notification, which came from Captain C. W. Saunders, chairman of the San Francisco union, who is superintendent of the Matson Navigation line, declared that Oakland "was now and would continue to be on an equality" with San Francisco in the rates to be paid for loading and unloading ships.

Up to this time employers of stevedores have been paying the stevedores the time consumed in traveling across the bay to jobs on the mainland, even though large numbers of the stevedores lived in Oakland.

OTHER POINTS UNIFORM

In this respect Oakland was placed in the same class as Crockett, Benicia, Martinez, Antioch and other upper-bay and river points.

Now the Waterfront Employers' Union has insisted upon Oakland being placed at no disadvantage under San Francisco and announces that in all agreements hereafter to be negotiated with the Riggers' and Stevedors' Union the wharves and docks on the continental side will be placed on a parity with those on the peninsular side.

It is estimated by shipping men that the new rates will work greatly to the advantage of Oakland as the saving will be about twelve per cent.

Dollar a Minute on Bad Check, Charge

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—Being a good talker won for James A. Baker a dollar a minute from the furniture store of T. W. Swinney, 2030 San Pablo avenue.

According to the story told by Swinney to the police, Baker visited his store in search of a table. Showing a bank-note to Mrs. Swinney he convinced her that he had funds and she gave him $6.50 on a $25 check. His visit lasted exactly six minutes. Today Swinney reported to the police that the check is worthless.

WOULD WITHDRAW FUNDS.

A supplemental application by the Western States Gas and Electric company, filed with the railroad commission today, asks authority to withdraw from funds, now in the hands of a trustee, the sum of $61,458.82. This amount was expended by the company for plant improvements during the months of September and October of this year. The Western States company operates in Stockton, Richmond and Eureka.

BERKELEY IN BREAK WITH COMMISSION

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—The dispute between the State Railroad Commission and the Berkeley city council over the proceedings to place a valuation on holdings of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways, resulted today in an open rupture.

The council, on motion of Councilman Charles D. Heywood, voted to withdraw from all proceedings before the commission in regard to the valuation, which is sought by the railway company in preparation for a resettlement franchise. This action followed a denunciation of the commission last week by Frank V. Cornish, city attorney. The resolution follows:

"Whereas, the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways has applied to the railroad commission of California for a valuation of its property as a preliminary step toward obtaining a resettlement franchise and prepared by the advisory board heretofore appointed by the mayor under Section 77½ of the charter of the city of Berkeley.

"And, whereas, by authority of a resolution of the council the city attorney has taken certain preliminary steps with the Railroad Commission of California for such valuation.

"And, whereas, the Railroad Commission by its representative has advised the city of Berkeley that it is immaterial whether the city of Berkeley participates further in its valuation.

"And, whereas, it appears to the council that the confidence of the public formerly enjoyed by the Railroad Commission is rapidly waning by reason of its changed policy in dealing with municipalities and their public utilities and that a valuation fixed by the commission would not be accepted. Now, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the city attorney is hereby instructed to withdraw all proceedings on behalf of the city of Berkeley with reference to the application of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railways for a resettlement franchise or a valuation of its property before the Railroad Commission."

SHRINERS' PARTY SHOWN SIGHTS

Imperial officers of the Order of the Mystic Shrine left Oakland this morning for an all-day sightseeing trip about the bay. Headed by W. Freeland Kendrick, imperial potentate, they departed this city at 9:30 o'clock after a two days' official visit to Aahmes Temple.

They were served luncheon at the take dinner at Uncle Tom's Cabin. They will arrive in San Francisco this evening and tomorrow will leave for Los Angeles. The officials were guests at a formal dinner and dance last evening at the Hotel Oakland. This followed an automobile ride over the Lake Chabot and Skyline boulevards and a luncheon at the Claremont Hotel.

Dan Pratt's Trial Delayed Till Friday

Unable to find a courtroom, the trial of Daniel W. Pratt, former manager of the Oakland board of education, who is charged with felony embezzlement, was continued until Friday at 10 o'clock by Judge Quinn this morning. The continuance was agreed to by Deputy District Attorney Ollie D. Hamlin and Attorney Robert E. Gaylord, for the defense.

Pratt was indicted by the grand jury following disclosures made in the board of education that he had appropriated to his own use automobile tires valued at $230 which belonged to the department.

ENDS TWENTY-FIVE YEARS OF TROUBLE

When we received the following letter from Mrs. C. J. Hurd of Witter Springs, California, we were rather skeptical as to some of the statements it contained, so we had one of our men make a personal call on Mrs. Hurd and he verified every statement. The letter follows:

"For twenty-five years I suffered with rheumatism. I was never out of pain and my limbs were so swollen I seemed deformed. Could only stand on my feet for a few minutes at a time and was almost a hopeless cripple. I had given up all hope and life held no pleasure for me. During all these years I tried many remedies, spent months at the hot springs and was treated by physicians, but temporary relief was all I was able to get. I had little faith in Anti-Uric at first; your claims were so mild and I seemed to get worse after using the first outfit. But I continued and the results were wonderful: the swellings in my limbs disappeared, the pains ceased and I could walk without a cane. Even stormy weather and exposure do not affect me in the least.

"It has been over a year since I stopped using Anti-Uric and I have had no trouble whatever. My weight has increased from 84 to 170 pounds; I eat whatever I please and feel like a girl in her 'teens. I owe all my health and happiness to Anti-Uric and do hope that those suffering with rheumatism will not neglect this wonderful opportunity to get well as I know Anti-Uric cures."

This letter should prove to the most skeptical that Anti-Uric is the master of rheumatism in all its forms. No matter how long you have suffered try Anti-Uric and if it does not give you relief your money will be returned. This certainly is a fair offer and shows we have faith in our remedy. Get an outfit of Anti-Uric today from your druggist and give it a trial.—Advertisement.

Three Leaders of Women Speak Before Crowd in California Hall at Berkeley

Oakland and Berkeley are hosts today to five suffragists of national fame. In the first row are, left to right, DR. VALERIA PARKER, MRS. CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT and MISS MARJORIE SHULER. Standing, left to right, are MISS JESSIE HAVER and MRS. E. JEAN PENFIELD.

Plans for Organization in Eastbay Cities to Unite Women's Votes Are Put Forth by the Speakers

"Women have lost their old-time economic independence," declared Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, national suffrage leader.

"Women must be the nation's housekeepers," asserted Miss Jessie Haver, expert on food production, as an officer of the National Consumers' league.

"Legislation is our object," announced Miss Marjorie Shuler, prominent New York state clubwoman.

The three distinguished women this morning addressed a large assemblage at Berkeley and included faculty members, students, feminine leaders and men who crowded California hall to the doors and formed an interested group of onlookers in the hallway. Mrs. Catt, president of the National League of Women Voters, and those who are touring the Pacific coast with her have come to California on a mission of education in an effort to unite the vote of all the women of the nation in the interests of those matters which concern them. Later organizations will be formed in the counties under the direction of Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Los Angeles, who arrived in the Eastbay cities this morning with Mrs. Catt. The party of nationally famous women are giving over the entire day to the neighboring cities. This morning they spoke at the University of California, Dean Jones presiding as chairman. Miss Lucy Stebbins entertained them at luncheon. At Hotel Oakland this afternoon at 2 o'clock under Oakland center, California Civic league, the organized women of the city gathered to learn of the newest national movement.

ADDRESS HERE TONIGHT.

"Wake Up, America," will be the subject of the address which Mrs. Catt will deliver in the First Congregational Church in Oakland tonight, supplementing the briefer talks of the women who are her companions, as well as chairmen of the various departments represented in the league of which she is executive. The public is invited to participate in the mass meeting.

"When John asks the modern Priscilla to wed," recited Mrs. Catt this morning at the university conference, "she tells him to go out and find a job with a salary large enough to rent a flat; to buy the furniture; dollars enough to give her to go to the grocery to buy cereals in packages, meat in packages. 'I will take these things which your money has bought,' says Priscilla, 'and warm up the food in delectable manner which I have learned in college.'

INDEPENDENCE SLIPPING.

"Women have lost a large part of the economic independence which belonged to the Priscilla of John Alden's day.

"With the ballot in our hands the battle is not over. There is still a battle in industry and the professions and the fundamental things which none of us can predict.

"It is a new thing to tell a young woman that politics demands scholars such as her. All things find solution in politics," asserted Mrs. Catt. Eventually every problem is referred to the legislature, the courts and political conventions. Our weapon of protection is the vote.

MISS HAVER SPEAKS.

Consumers' cooperative societies was urged by Miss Jessie Haver as the needful step in the reduction of the high cost of living. According to the young Washington woman, these can come about only after proper legislation has been passed regulating production and distribution.

"Free competition is not playing today," commented Miss Haver. "Women have been told to stay in the home. They have stayed there, not knowing what was going on. We would have come to the days of the high costs anyway, but the war has hastened it. Women must become the nation's housekeepers and have the spring housecleaning, even as they do in their own homes."

Miss Haver referred to the orgy of speculators and profiteers as a main cause for present inflated prices.

"Legislation is our objective," declared Miss Shuler. "We are not going out with a club over candidates, but we will use our voting power to the best end. Among the legislation particularly desired she named nation-wide laws for compulsory education; limiting the franchise to those who can read and write; providing that with the assuming of citizenship an oath of allegiance to the government be taken.

"Under our skins the woman of the East is just the same as the woman of the West," concluded the Eastern leader. "It is not true our problems are different."

CHARGES DENIED BY DR. PAUL LANZ

Dr. Paul Lanz, Oakland physician and clubman, pleaded not guilty to six separate charges of violating the State poison act today in Police Judge Mortimer Smith's court and asked for a jury trial. The cases will be tried December 11.

Lanz was taken in custody at his office suite by operatives of the State board of pharmacy, after his alleged manipulation of hundreds of narcotic prescriptions in which he used the names of prominent Oaklanders to secure opiates, had been going on for more than a year.

Federal authorities are investigating suspicions that he violated Government statutes.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

Tells How She Did It With a Home-Made Remedy

Mrs. E. H. Boots, a well-known resident of Buchanan County, Ia., who darkened her gray hair, made the following statement:

"Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, and make it soft and glossy with this simple remedy, which they can mix at home: To half a pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, one small box of Barbo Compound and ½ ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently. It does not color the scalp; is not greasy and does not rub off. It will make a gray-haired person look 10 to 20 years younger"—Advertisement.

NERVOUS PROSTRATION

May be Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound — This Letter Proves It.

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made a well woman of me. I can now do all my housework and advise all ailing women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it."—Mrs. FRANK FITZGERALD, 25 N. 41st St., West Philadelphia, Pa.

There are thousands of women everywhere in Mrs. Fitzgerald's condition, suffering from nervousness, backache, headaches, and other symptoms of a functional derangement. It was a grateful spirit for health restored which led her to write this letter so that other women may benefit from her experience and find health as she has done.

For suggestions in regard to your condition, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their forty years experience is at your service.

SUIT IS NOW ON

The suit of Edith H. Rahn against Henry P. Dalton, former county assessor, and Margaret K. Dalton, to compell the defendants to deliver a clear deed to property in Roselle, New Jersey, and for $11,000 damages, began today before Judge T. W. Harris in the Superior court.

The litigation grew out of a real estate transaction in which Mrs. Rahn traded a ranch in Sacramento county valued at $55,000 for the property in New Jersey. It is alleged that Dalton refused to deliver a clear deed to the latter property and also that it was misrepresented that certain paving and improvements had been done on the New Jersey property. The $11,000 sued for is to reimburse Mrs. Rahn for the alleged lack of improvements.

PAYMENTS ON ALLIES' LOANS TO BE DELAYED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Interest payments on American loans to the allies may be deferred "until the war reaction passes," it was said today at the treasury. Negotiations to this end are now being conducted at the request of the allies, but officials from the treasury's representatives at Paris did not indicate an early conclusion.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A plan is under discussion by the British and American government under which the payment of interest on advances by Great Britain and the United States to the Allies in the course of the war and also advances by the United States to Great Britain, would be postponed for three years, it was announced in the House of Commons today by Austen Chamberlain, the chancellor of the exchequer.

The bold, bad hold-up who attempted to rob Ned Anderson, 837 Thirty-seventh street, had no results early this morning.

"Hold up 'yr hands, quick," Anderson heard a voice issue from a dark alley, near his home.

"Don't bother me; I'm in a hurry," replied Anderson.

The burglar said nothing more, according to Anderson's version. He dropped a heavy club and fled.

MAY LEARN MUCH.

Judge Payne, chairman of the United States Shipping Board, will meet representatives of Pacific Coast cities about December 4th to discuss the needs of ships in Pacific waters. This conference is the result of the appeal made after a meeting in San Francisco two weeks ago of shipping men and representatives of chambers of commerce to consider the shipping situation. San Francisco, Seattle, Tacoma, Los Angeles, Portland and San Diego will be represented.

Judge Payne says he will be glad to hear any statement which Pacific Coast interests may make in regard to the allocation of more vessels to the trade in this ocean. He has adopted no preconceived policy as to the number of ships necessary to accommodate the traffic and will approach the subject with an open mind.

Judge Payne is exceedingly kind in his disposition toward the Pacific Coast. Through some remarkable circumstance he has not become acquainted with the needs of trade in this area. Otherwise his mind could not remain open. From numerous statements of the past and the false reports of allocations by the Shipping Board it has been assumed in many quarters that the Shipping Board had a very lively realization of the need of more ships to carry the commerce between the United States and Hawaii, Japan, China, the Philippines and Australia.

It now develops, however, that the Chairman of the Shipping Board is absolutely unprejudiced in favor of the crying need of this section of the country. It has become necessary for a committee representative of the trade and shipping interests to go to Washington and disclose the situation to him. Fortunately this committee has determined to speak only of the general need for a larger tonnage, each city concerned having put aside individual claims, and pledged itself to work unselfishly for the common good. If Judge Payne is really not acquainted with conditions on the coast he ought to be strongly impressed with what he hears at the coming conference.

A FINE TYPE.

Mr. James B. Barber, who died Sunday, had been tax collector for Alameda county for twenty-seven years. He was the type of official which gives greatest satisfaction to the public. He possessed a sterling honesty which was never questioned; he was efficient and faithful in the performance of his duties; he never neglected the public service to promote his personal political fortunes and as a consequence his political fortunes were never seriously endangered. He was re-elected term after term by overwhelming majorities.

The public record of Mr. Barber shows that the people trust and reward faithful, efficient service. It shows that it is not necessary for public officials to devote the greater part of their time rewarding political friends and otherwise preparing for the next election. Here is a man who attended to his official duties as the same and with only the thought to serve the people well. He was not trained to do more.

Although his long and protracted illness had warped the people they must expect to part with his services some time, the death of Tax Collector Barber has brought regret and grief to every citizen acquainted with him and his work.

The tragic death in an automobile accident Sunday of Hon. Charles M. Belcher removes from active life a distinguished Californian and one who had become known throughout the State for a deep and abiding interest in public welfare. Having served with distinction in the California legislature and been a candidate for governor he was appointed [illegible] circles. And there he will be remembered as a man who followed the course he believed to be right, never truckling to the men he did not like or to the interests he opposed. As a member and officer of the Native Sons—he was at one time president of the order—he contributed much to the strength and usefulness of that organization. The work of caring for homeless children which the Native Sons now supports is indebted to him for constant inspiration, enthusiastic work and unfailing support. He was interested in many other benefactions, where he will be sadly missed.

AN EXPENSIVE SERVICE.

With silver "officially" quoted at over $1.34 an ounce and actual transfers made at $1.38, it appears that the Federal Government is about to be squeezed for a few million dollars on account of a benevolent deal with Great Britain eighteen months ago. When this happens another interesting chapter will be added to the Pittman silver act, originated by Senator Key Pittman of Nevada.

Under this law 265,000,000 of the silver dollars held in the United States Treasury to secure silver certificates were melted into bullion and sold, almost wholly to Great Britain, for use in meeting Britain's trade balances in India. The agreed price of the bullion was $1.01. It was stipulated in the bill that when the treasury came to buy silver to replace the dollars used for Britain's benefit it should pay not less than $1 an ounce.

But now there is no danger of the government obtaining silver at less than $1. As a matter of fact it will have to pay considerably more. With silver bullion at $1.35 an ounce, it will cost $276,697,265 to purchase enough bullion to mint the dollars that were melted up for England, who got them for $204,960,937. The United States therefore stands to lose about $71,736,328, providing silver bullion does not cost more than $1.35 an ounce.

Of course, if the price of silver goes higher, the loss will be proportionately larger. Treasury officials and financial experts expect the extraordinary demand for silver to continue, which will mean a continually rising price. The dollars extracted from the Treasury under the Pittman act must be replaced and the Government must buy its silver bullion in the open market from American producers. For, it is remembered, the Pittman Act was "designed to stimulate production"—at least, that was the argument in favor of it.

INNOCENT WITH THE GUILTY.

President Wilbur of Stanford university has announced that all collegiate relations between Stanford and the University of California have been severed for one year as a punishment for the invasion by Stanford students of the University of California campus and the painting of Sather Gate with red and the defacement of other structures with the Stanford colors.

This is drastic, but [illegible] the offense of the Stanford students was serious. Not in the fact that it provoked the ire of University of California students and faculty, but because it violated the word of honor given on a previous occasion by Stanford representatives. And if it results in impressing upon the student body of Stanford the usefulness of honorable deportment the severe penalty will have served a useful purpose.

But is it necessary to punish and stigmatize the entire student body of Stanford because of the misdeeds of a few smark-alecky fools? It would seem to fit the ideas of justice more snugly and pleasantly to expel the guilty students and permit the true and worthy ones to continue enjoyment of their rights and privileges. The essential lesson of straight-thinking and square conduct would be imparted just as effectively as it will be by the action President Wilbur has taken.

According to one story from Europe, Premier Paderewski of Poland was very busy at the Peace conference when Polish questions were under discussion. He was so hard pressed for time that he declined to open his mail. But one letter came from the United States marked "urgent and important," which so fascinated him that he broke the rule. He found that it came from a musical enthusiast who wished to know whether the "Andante" of the Second Symphony should be rendered with or without the pedal. Paderewski dashed off the answer while Poland waited. The single-track mind has its merits, but a man with an obsession often does queer things, things that cast doubt upon the wisdom of entrusting him with general interests of a large community of people.

This can be done without jeopardizing the Monroe doctrine or the constitutional rights of the United States.—Chicago Daily News.

NOTES and COMMENT

The representation that women jurors are severe on women defendants, but not so ruthless on men, is not likely to be accepted unreservedly; but if it is true in any measure that saying about "Man's inhumanity to man" should be revised and extended. When it was written only men served on juries.

The Republicans of Massachusetts naturally are urging Governor Coolidge for the presidency. He comes from the extreme East, but the geographical question may give way to the patriotic question. The country will want to put a patriotic American on guard, whatever section he hails from.

In one of his confessions, the youthful robber and slayer of a San Francisco policeman expressed the hope that the authorities would be lenient with him. Which suggests the idea that seems to be entertained by criminals generally, of the possibilities of escape from the consequences of their acts through the indeterminate sentence, probation and kindred routes. Perhaps there has been too much of this coddling of crime.

Bandit Carlisle is not pulling a new stunt by writing and writing derisive letters to the sheriffs who are on his trail. Black Bart was a predecessor who dropped into poetry on the subject. It appears that the Wyoming bandit persists in prose.

Le Matin, noting the Senate's effort to keep America out of European affairs, hopes it will succeed. This may not be the unkindest cut, but it will not tend to weaken the opinion of Americans that our "butting in" to the peace proceedings was welcome only as it benefited other countries.

Stefansson certainly gained a hearing when he declared that reindeer is the coming meat of the North American people. A man who sojourned in the boreal regions four years, verifying the contention that explorers can live off the country, is no visionaire. What he says about reindeer meat is worth looking into.

It was not a commendable trick to play on the vice-president—when he is away from home to get false news up to him that the President is no more. There have been Vice-Presidents upon whom such a hoax would not have been attempted. And probably there are some who would not have been misled if such attempt had been made upon them.

"Tremendous pressure" is being brought to bear on the President to induce him to consent to a compromise on the peace pact, to prevent its being carried into the campaign next year as an issue. Evidently there are [illegible] equipment who wish to avoid a greater smash than is absolutely necessary.

CAPTAIN COOK.

To the Editor of The Tribune:

Last evening a very interesting lecture was delivered in East Oakland by a clerical gentleman upon the subject of Hawaii.

When the speaker referred to the discoverer of the islands, Captain Cook, he dismissed his name with the remark "the least said of him the better."

This inadequate and slighting allusion to the name of the great navigator was disappointing and unjust.

Captain Cook's claims to fame are several. He was not only the greatest of British maritime discoverers, but the greatest of hydrographers up to and including his time. He was distinguished both as a mathematician and astronomer. But his greatest exploit perhaps, was the prevention of scurvy that to his time was the curse of deep-sea voyaging.

It was written of him that "He won the affection of those who served under him by sympathy, kindness and unselfish care of others as noteworthy as his gifts of intellect."

A THIEVING SHARK.

As he hauled up a string of grouper (rock cod) from the San Diego fishing banks Thursday morning, Captain Harry Stoughton (Shorty) found himself looking squarely in the eyes of a monster man-eating Mexican shark. He was alone in his fishing launch "Shorty." One by one the red fish came to the surface from a depth of 600 feet. Very leisurely the shark swam about the captured fish and plucked them off the line, like apples from a tree. Stoughton was using a leader with 100 hooks on it, and the heavy load of fish was pulled up from the bottom with a Michaelis deep-sea reel operated by the boat's engine.

Exasperated by the piracy of the [illegible] Captain Stoughton hauled a large hook with one of the fish he had just pulled to the surface. Immediately the shark grabbed it. The captain set the automatic drag of the reel tighter. Then the fight was on. He wanted to bring the shark to Avalon alive.

"I'd had a chance to see that Mexican man-eater before I got into the scrap," said Captain Stoughton. "It didn't catch me suddenly like that big octopus several years ago. I baited the hook and then got down to business. My! how that old boy fought the gear. He pulled out about five hundred feet of line and then started to tow the boat. It was about thirty minutes before I got him turned with his torpedo-like nose pointed to Avalon. Then I [illegible] the clutch and began to tow him.

"He came along like a submarine. Every once-in-awhile he would back up a shandy and throw the water with his big tail.

"I got him up to the pier and was just getting ready to pull him out of the water when a moving picture [illegible] man came and offered me forty dollars for him.

"'He's yours,' I told the guy. 'Where shall I deliver it—at your hotel?'

"'No, leave it in the water; I want a [illegible] picture right away.'"—Avalon Islander.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Do You Always Take Good Care of Your Digestion?

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D.
(Johns Hopkins University.)

High prices do not seem to deter many of you from living well—well, in fact, that you may injure your stomach, liver, kidneys and heart.

Are your muscles, salivary and gastric glands, liver, intestines, spleen and kidneys as much rested and renewed as they should be? Do the enzymes—ferments—of the saliva digest starches into sugars as well as when you worked harder and ate less?

If one [illegible] of a bowl of milk and wheat shreds these enzymes may do what most men and women past 20 try to impose upon them in the way of food.

The final steps in digestion take place in the small intestine through the actions of the enzymes. If any of the digestive formations is deficient in quantity or power a link in the chain of digestion is impaired and the whole digestion suffers. The defection of a single ferment is bound to exert a most serious effect on the whole alimentary canal.

There is a close analogy between the routine of the working person and that of the tissues. The person who works has his period of rest, is aroused to activity, partakes of nourishment, goes forth to his day's work, repeats his nourishment after certain intervals and returns to his rest again.

The tissues have their intervals of rest, activity and repair also.

There are at least four ways to arouse digestion by the senses of smell, taste, sight, muscles and touch, by the chemistry of the food itself, by irritants and by production of the enzymes of digestion.

Digestion, therefore, may be interfered with by colds, fevers, infections, accidents, fatigue, emotions, foods, diseases, exercise and various other conditions immediately or not at all directly connected with digestion.

The diet may be badly balanced with the preponderance of one class of foods—the carbohydrates—for prolonged periods. Enzymes, which digest carbohydrates, would then be required in such quantities and for so long a time that the cells providing these ferments would be overworked. Sooner or later such prolonged work leads to bad conditions, and the fibres become deficient. On the other hand, the cells producing the other ferments, through failure to have a sufficient amount of work to do, will also become weakened, malnourished and lacking in vigor.

More or less prolonged inactivity soon leads to atrophy and the development of destructive processes which, of course, still further incapacitate the digestive scheme.

Treatment of digestive derangements must follow certain rational lines. Ordinary drugs can at most have only temporary effect, and this effect is bound to be artificial and uncertain.

The rational method is to aid digestion until that process can once again be restored to a normal condition. This is done by an analysis of the stomach, intestine and other parts of the digestive apparatus. Measures are then taken to correct the abused structure, and, if need be, to substitute the deficient enzyme.

VOLUME LXXXI. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 25, 1919. A NO. 101.

City Occupation Licens. Ordinance Is Introduced By Commissioner Edwards

The new occupation license ordinance designed to produce revenues lost to the city through prohibition, was laid before the city council today by Commissioner of Revenue and Finance W. H. Edwards for first reading and debate. The measure places a license on every business, trade, profession, calling, occupation and employment, and is expected to produce revenue amounting to $175,000 a year.

Following the first reading of the ordinance, Commissioner Edwards asked that second reading be delayed in order to allow time for discussion of the various features of the measure, and suggested that the first hearing be held on the first fifty units of the ordinance. Second reading was deferred by the council until next Tuesday morning, at which time discussion will be held on the first fifty units.

MERCHANTS MAY OBJECT.

Wilbur Walker, secretary of the Merchants' Exchange, appeared in behalf of that organization at the reading of the measure and asked that consideration be given by the council to the merchants and business and professional men affected before the ordinance is finally passed, and that information on the different features of the ordinance be made available to the public.

He was informed by the council that a copy of the ordinance will be on file in the office of the City Clerk for the public and that every opportunity for protests will be given before the measure is finally adopted.

The old occupation license ordinance and all other conflicting revenue producing ordinances will be repealed by the passage of the proposed new measure, which is modeled to a great extent after the occupation license ordinance in effect in the city of Los Angeles. The licenses required range all the way from $2 a year to $100 a year.

STATEMENT BY EDWARDS.

In introducing the ordinance Commissioner Edwards made the following statement to the council:

"I inclose herewith for consideration a proposed ordinance which seeks to raise municipal revenue to take the place of that which has been lost due to the enforcement of prohibition measures in the United States.

"So far as I know, every city in the country has been forced to take a similar stand in regard to these matters. To offset the loss of revenue formerly derived from liquor licenses, it has become necessary to levy an occupational and business tax. By the proposed ordinance approximately $175,000 a year will be raised by th city of Oakland. It will be readily discovered that this amount is not an exorbitant tax and will mean a very little burden for each business or person involved.

URGES EARLY ACTION.

"It would seem that some kind of revenue producing ordinance should be passed so as to be effective not later than January 1, 1920. The bill proposed by me is submitted for consideration and discussion. If the matters proposed are found to be burdensome or inequitable, I invite proper amendments to cure such defects. So that the matter may receive full discussion and so that the various businesses and interests effected may have an opportunity to be represented, I suggest that the proposed ordinance be given its first reading and that a future date be set for the second reading."

The proposed ordinance has been in the course of construction for the past four months in the office of City Attorney H. L. Hagan. According to Commissioner Edwards, $240,000 a year in revenues has been lost to the city by the closing of saloons, and a deficit of approximately $50,000 that will not be covered by the new measure must be secured through the tax levy.

The charges levied in the ordinance are based largely on the figures furnished by the United States government statistics on licenses required in similar ordinances in other cities in the country, and according to Commissioner Edwards the tax levied in this city under the new ordinance will be in general lower than in any other city in the United States because the ground has been more completely covered and the license based on the principal that the burden should be distributed among all businesses, professions and trades, rather than paid by a few.

U. C. AND STANFORD STUDENTS NOT WORRYING OVER BREAK

EDDIE BOGART, OF HALL-SCOTTS PROVES MOST CONSISTENT HITTER IN THE TRIBUNE LEAGUE

OL' HENRY HOOCH---The Right Music But the Wrong Key -:- -:- -:- -:- -:- By Rod

Dempsey Will Never Battle Colored Boxer

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 25.—Jack Dempsey is in Los Angeles today ready to fight or do anything else in his line.

He arrived with Jack Kearns this morning, coming to appear in the movies under his much heralded motion picture contract.

Dempsey was met by a movie studio delegation and then he talked with the newspapermen.

Summarized, this is what he said:

He wont fight Harry Wills or any other negro fighter because he thinks the public wouldn't approve of giving anyone not white a chance at the championship.

He'll fight Fred Fulton. Willie Meehan or anyone else, just as soon as any promoter jingles the proper quantity of Uncle Sam's gold. He adds the comment that he is straining his ears but doesn't hear any jingle.

He denied he was a physical wreck and his denial seemed to have a grounding in fact.

He denied he was killed in an auto wreck in Louisiana or any other place south of the Mason and Dixon line.

He feels he has "just got to meet the winner" of the Beckett-Carpentier match. London wants him to fight the winner there, but he prefers American soil.

Homing Loft

The Pacific Homing Pigeon Club will hold a Thanksgiving Handicap over the 100-mile course next Sunday, for birds of all ages, and as the first prize will be a 20-pound turkey, the local fanciers are priming the pick of their lofts for this race. There will also be chickens, ducks and rabbits awarded to the contestants, so there will be some keen competition to cut down the high cost of living.

Another of the feathered tribe which will attract a great deal of attention is "Prince Germea," from the loft of the Sperry Flour Company. This little aerial messenger has the unique record of having carried 107 messages from various cities in the State, among them letters from the mayors and city officials of the cities visited. It is estimated that this aerial messenger has flown over 6000 miles since he left the nest in March, 1917.

"Lady Shand" from the loft of C. Vandeu Berghe, will be one of the entrants, and as this speedy little trick won the 685-mile "TRIBUNE Derby" from Seattle to Oakland, it is certain to create interest among the followers of the sport.

J. T. McCray's "Drifted Snow," winner of the 500-mile Derby, will also be on exhibition, providing arrangements can be made to have his youngsters cared for, for Mac says the pair of squabs in the nest are going to figure in next year's races.

FIRST HALF OF RACE IN TRIBUNE LEAGUE UNCOVERS SOME STARS

"Moke" Meyers Looks Like Best Young Prospect; Eddie Bogart Leading in Hitter

By EDDIE MURPHY

With the first half of The TRIBUNE Midwinter League races completed there are plenty of fans who can be found to make selection of ball players that they think might make good in faster company next season. Of course, while it is hard to judge a ball player by seven games, some of those fans can discover in the official averages of the first seven games being published today, whether or not their early selections were good ones. Several players who have been boosted by The TRIBUNE as good prospects are to be found high up in today's averages of hitting, while there are others who do not appear above the .200 mark.

Eddie Bogart of the Regina club in the Canadian League and who is cavorting for the Hall-Scotts in The TRIBUNE League, is the leading hitter, with eight hits out of fourteen times at bat in four games. His percentage is .571. Bogart's record would be much better if it was not necessary to scratch out the work of the [illegible] in the game between the Crystal Laundry and Hall-Scott teams which was ordered replayed by the Arbitration Board. Bogart got two hits in three times at bat in that contest, a double and homer, so his good work in that game all went for naught.

VETERANS HITTING GOOD.

Among those holding a batting percentage of .300 or better are several players who have about given up the idea of ever playing professional ball again. One of them is Al Heister, formerly of the Sacramento club. Al has been hitting the ball at a great clip for the Crystal Laundry nine, getting ten hits in 23 times at bat. He is second of the regular players. Babe Danzig is hitting .381, Pat Kilhullen .333 and Daddy Rohrer .300.

McNALLY AND MEYERS.

"Moke" Meyers, the lad who is being closely watched by several league managers, is sure going like a house afire. The 20-year-old lad who has not been playing in fast bush company for more than two seasons, but is as sure a fielder of balls as any outfielder in the league, is hitting .348, getting eight hits in twenty-three times at bat. Three of those hits went for doubles, another for a triple and one for a homer.

Walter "Seacap" Christensen, the little left fielder of the C. L. Best Tractors, follows Al Heister in hitting. Christensen is but 20 years of age, but one of the smartest now playing on the sand lots. It is very seldom that a fly ball gets away from him. His actions when he gets on the bags causes the most seasoned pitchers to worry. He is hitting .400 and certainly bears watching.

Emerson McNally, that tall kid pitcher of the Crystals, is not only showing up well as a slabber but he has secured enough hits to hold him at fifth place in batting. Johnny Gillespie of the Best Tractors is another pitcher who is being closely watched because of his work on the mound for the Tractors, and he is also showing a lot of class with the stick. He is hitting .368.

Freddie Maas of the J. J. Kriegs is hitting an even .300, and it was a couple of seasons ago that he showed enough to warrant him a tryout with the Oaks. Joe Dooley, the young catcher of the Hall-Scotts and who reports to Salt Lake next spring, is hitting .286, while Claude Rowjer, one of the best shortstops that ever performed in the bushes, is hitting .250.

CATCHERS TOO GOOD.

That the caliber of catchers in The TRIBUNE League this season is better than any complete set to be seen in a local bush league before can be found out by looking at the records of base stealing by each player. No more than two bags have been swiped by any player. Jack Conger, one of the most consistent shortstops in the league, is leading in sacrificing with four marks in that column.

The real worth of "Moke" Meyers to the Halton-Didiers is brought out in the run-scoring column. He is the leading run-maker, having crossed the plate nine times in the seven games. "Red" Lynch of the Judsons is second with six marks, while Johnny Gillespie, pitcher for the C. L. Best Tractors, is tied with Galena of the Natives for third place. They scored five times each.

The Homing Loft

The Homing Pigeon fanciers of San Francisco are endeavoring to establish a flying club in their city, to fly in conjunction with the local clubs, and it is hoped that by next season's races other cities around the bay will enter into the sport, which is gaining rapidly in popularity. Birds that will be in training for next season's races will be in the neighborhood of 600 from this district.

The members of the local organization are planning an interesting exhibit of racing birds at the Pigeon Show to be held in the Oakland auditorium the last week in this month, and some of the coast record holders will be on display.

Stanford and California Are Again at Outs

"Everything Will Be All Right," Is Feeling at Berkeley

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Nov. 25.—Intercollegiate athletic relations between Stanford and the University of California have automatically come to an end, and their resumption now lies in the balance. Such was the declaration of President Wilbur of Stanford last night. This measure comes as a result of the invasion of the California campus by members of the Stanford student body last Wednesday night, which resulted in the defacing of the Sather gate and other university property.

The revocation of athletic relations between the two rivals is automatic, being founded on the agreement entered in by the presidents of Stanford and California last summer, with a view to putting an end to the depredations annually committed by heedless students. The agreement provides for automatic cancellation of relations in the event of violations of the agreement. The initiative for resuming relations must come from the college offended, in this case from the University of California.

After fourteen years of vicissitudes, the big game was resumed this year and played last Saturday. Hot on the heels of the game comes the announcement that relations have been broken and that no more contests are possible between the rivals until California signifies that Stanford's apology has been sufficient and that she is willing to resume relations.

This action at California is expected at an early date.

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—The students at the University of California do not believe that the breach between the U. C. and Stanford is serious. "Everything will be all right," is the opinion expressed here.

BOUTS AT VALLEJO TONIGHT

JOE AZEVEDO VS. HERRERRA

Vallejo Card For Tonight

Joe Azevedo vs. Joe Herrerra.
Earl Young vs. Al Prouse.
Jimmy Lewis vs. Bert Harris.
Harry Reidy vs. Kid Suddington.
Jack O'Brien vs. Young Poole.
Tad Jones vs. Shadow Morris.

By BOB SHAND.

There will be a pair of Joes in the ring at Vallejo tonight, but not the kind of "Joes" you mean. Joe Azevedo, the original Joe from Sacramento, will hook up with Joe Herrerra, the tough lightweight from North Beach, in the main event of Scotty Watts' card and the fans [illegible] these birds clash. They boxed a fast draw a few days ago at Gilroy and are all set for another great session tonight. Azevedo still thinks he is as good as he used to be when he was boxing the Ad Wolgasts and Charlie Whites and that kind and if he wins tonight he will go after Tommy Simpson for a main event at the Auditorium. Azevedo is picking on a tough bird in Heerrerra, as the latter can take 'em and keep right on coming.

Harry Reidy, who would just as soon stop a few with his chin as eat turkey, has a date with Kid Suddington, from the naval training camp. "Suds" is a good two-handed fighter who loves to tear in and whale away with both hands. Earl Young meets Al Prouse in one of the specials and if they fight to form the bout should be well worth while. Jimmy Lewis and Bert Barris are the other special eventers.

Several machine loads of Oakland fans will make the trip to the navy yard town tonight and they will be able to return on the 10:20 ferry. Last time they had a show at Vallejo the ferry people held the boat for ten minutes and they are willing to repeat. The arena is situated on York street, two blocks from the center of the city.

Jack Brereton is the promoter of the Vallejo Athletic Club and is doing his best to rehabilitate the game by staking fights that are strictly on the up and up.

After having been barred from Dreamland for several months, Frankie Farren will appear in one of the Allied promoter's main events Friday night when he books up with Monk Fowler.

Tom O'Day, who with Sid Hester promoted the Wolgast-Nelson fight at Point Richmond in 1910, is speaking about spending $300,000 in the erection of a fight arena on Market street, San Francisco. The Allied promoters consisting of Harry Foley, Dolph Thomas, Frank Schuler and Frank Lawler, who have been staging battles at Dreamland rink, will move into O'Day's new building. Their lease on Dreamland expires January 30. The site of the new arena is being kept a secret, but it will be "somewhere on Market street."

JOE AZEVEDO.

The 'steenth meeting of Sam Langford and Jack Thompson last night was broken up by the referee who chased them from the ring. Thompson claimed to have a broken thumb. It was a broken finger he claimed out here when accused of pulling his punches.

Pinky Lewis is now a regular Shimee dancer. He was among the colored entertainers at the Auto Trades Association stag party last night. Pinky shimees much better than he fights.

Battling Ortega and Scotty Williams have been matched to box in Portland December 19—that is, the Battler will take the match if there is nothing in the way of a fight for him here.

Carl Morris has started training at West Oakland for his fight with Gunboat Smith at the Auditorium a week from tomorrow night.

Cliff Lester, who was driving a team on Broadway six weeks ago, writes from London, England, that he has been matched with a bird named James Rideout. Mr. Rideout holds the East England middleweight championship.

University Hi Local Champs of American Game

Piling up 61 points to their opponents 0, University High school had little trouble in defeating Vocational Hight at California Field. This game gives the U. H. S. team the championship of Oakland in American football. The Vocational boys were willing and tried hard but were completely outclassed. From the start the U. H. S. eleven showed superiority and during the entire game scored almost at will. The first touchdown was made by Edwards on a long end run after first few minutes of play. Edwards, although new to the game, has proven to be one of the stars of the U. H. S. He scored three more times during the game. Rhodes, playing center for the majority of the season, has been changed to the backfield and developed into a powerful line backer. He tore through the Vocational line time and again for long gains.

One of the star plays of the game came during the second quarter, when Agrusa caught a punt on his own forty yard line and ran sixty yards through a scattered field for a touchdown. Davies at right end, was a tower of strength on the defense, nailing many Vocational men for losses. Dummy McLean at quarter back ran the team efficiently and showed up well on the defense. Lester the left end, a player developed this season, also playd a fine defensive. Coach C. R. Church deserves a great deal of credit for the fine team he has turned out.

BIG GAME SATURDAY.

This game served as a preliminary to the big Berkeley game to be played November 29 at California Field. All followers of high school American football in the bay regions are looking forward to the meeting of these two schools. Much rivalry exists between the two schools and a close score is certain. The U. H. S. team has practised hard of late and are rounding into top form. All indications show that the Berkeley team is playing in top form now. Witter, Dustin and West have showed up well in all the games played by Berkeley to date.

Technical Hi Has 2 Weight Champions

Coach C. H. Blesse of the Oakland Technical High School did not lay down on the job after he had perfected a winning unlimited weight football combination, but started in on coachin various weight clubs. Result: two weight championships for Tech in the Oakland Athletic League. These are the 110-pound class and the 120-pound class titles which these respective fifteen garnered by trouncing their opponents in all games.

WEE ONES WIN.

Captain Pinkey Ferrari's 110 boys put an 8-3 honk on Fremont and took the title. Oakland High failed to enter a club of this weight. Young York shone for this aggregation.

By an 8-0 win over Fremont's 120-pound outfit, the Tech crew cinched the crown, for Oakland High did not start making up a team of this weight until after the fireworks was over. This club, which they did assemble, was not official because of its late entry into the competition. Eddie Ra- [illegible] stellar exhibition in this contest, Frenchy Charbonnier proved to be the find of the season as a rugby player.

THE LINE-UP.

120-pound Tech Champions—Long, Smale, front rank; Minney, Jock; Isenburg, wing; Denant, full back. Warner, Wenkenbach, breakaway; Bee, Zingal, Quinn, rear rank; Ravizza, half; Charbonnier, wing forward; York, first five; Firpo, second five; Henshaw, center three; Potter, Robeschung, wing; Denant, full back.

Junior Tennis Players Meet At Berkeley

Junior tennis stars of the Berkeley and Oakland Junior tennis clubs will meet in a tournament to decide club supremacy on Friday morning on the courts of the Berkeley Tennis Club. The Berkeley players captured the lion's share of the matches at the last meeting of the clubs, but the Mosswood boys insist that they can turn the tables.

The tournament will consist of a large number of matches representing the different divisions of the clubs which include in their membership boys between the ages of 10 and 18.

Much interest will be taken in the match between the ranking players of the clubs. Eugene Vinson of Oakland High School holds the number one position for the Oakland team, and Luin Sweitzer of the U. C. Freshman team is top man for the Berkeley organization. These two players have met on two occasions and each has a win to his credit.

Carpentier Starts Training For Fight With J. Beckett

LONDON, Nov. 25 (United Press).—Georges Carpentier, French heavyweight champion, who is in training here for his fight December 4 with Joe Beckett, British champion, today broke the silence which has pervaded his camp and said he would win.

"Through my training I have forced myself to imagine that Beckett was always in front of me. We have made Beckett the subject of a daily lecture on physiology. We have studied and analyzed him from every point of view and I have fashioned my methods of training upon the deductions resulting," Carpentier said.

"Beckett is the most dangerous man I have ever met. He is bigger and stronger than I am. Put us in the ring to stand up and hit each other and I should not have a chance. I will depend on science to overcome that. Beckett can take a lot of punishment, but so can I as fans who saw my fights with Klaus and Papke will testify.

"Now I am fit as I ever shall be and if I go down on December 4 it will not be because of indifferent physical condition."

Managers in 'A' League to Meet Tonight

Best Tractors Will Play St. Dominics of S. F. on Thanksgiving

The regular meeting of the class A managers of the Oakland TRIBUNE Midwinter League will be held tonight and although there is not much business of importance to come up, there should be a lot of chattering over the way the first half of the race went along. The managers learned many things during the first half of the race, and they will use them for examples in the last half. No more players can be signed by teams, so it looks like some pretty sailing for the boys during the next seven Sundays. All that is hoped for is the weather man will treat them as good as he has in the first seven games, not a postponement being caused because of rain.

Jerry Lawlor will sit in the president's chair tonight, as President Fred L. Krumb will be unable to attend, as he is an honor guard over the body of the late James Barber.

ST. DOMINICS VS. TRACTORS.

The San Leandro fans are to be treated to a ball game at the cherry town next Thursday afternoon, when the C. L. Best Tractors of that town will meet the St. Dominics of San Francisco and who are right in the running for the pennant in the Seals' Midwinter league. Bill Wagner, business manager for the Tractors, arranged for the game, which should draw many fans from Oakland and other places, as the sport events on Thanksgiving Day will be very few, and the St. Dominic-Tractor game looks like one of the biggest events. Bert "Smiles" Cole, the lad who was with the Mare Island Shipfitters last summer, is to be in the box for the St Dominics while Caldera or Gillespie will work for the Tractors. The St. Dominics being in the Seals league and the Tractors in the TRIBUNE league should give reason for the boys putting up a scrappy game for laurels.

ALAMEDANS AT STOCKTON.

Taking advantage of the holiday, Manuel Duarte, manager of the Halton-Didiers of Alameda will lead his club to Stockton for a game with the Holts or Sperry Flours. Stockton fans have been wanting to see their team in a contest with one of the TRIBUNE league top-notchers, and they will see a real ball club in the Talton-Didiers. Bill Kenworthy of the Seattle club arranged for the game with Duarte's team. Milton Steengrafe will work in the box for the Alamedans, which means that Babe Hollis will be used next Sunday when the Clothiers meet the Hall-Scotts at Lincoln park.

BOWLING

Sperling and Jensen won the 12-hour bowling contest on the Maryland alleys, Sunday, after a hard battle which lasted throughout the day. Lafranche and Hall started out to make a one-team race at the start but Chapp of Chapp and Romeo piled up several good scores and passed the leaders, only to lose it back when his partner came on and could not get started. Brandtgen and Lee came from behind and by rolling big scores during the last few hours of play landed second honors. Third place was won by Rosse and Cushwa, who rolled a steady game throughout the day.

BASKET LEAGUE TO BE FORMED NEXT FRIDAY

Managers of basketball teams from all over the county are invited to attend a meeting which will be held next Friday night at 8 o'clock in the assembly room on the roof of The TRIBUNE building. At the suggestion of Billy Hollander, coach of the University of California basketball team, and one of the greatest boosters for the game in the country, the meeting is to be held with the idea of organizing leagues for unlimited and weight teams. W. A. (Bru) Kearns of the Oakland Y. M. C. A., Coach Frank Bock of Oakland high, Coach Otto Rittler of Alameda high, Ed McDermed of the Spartan Civic Center and many others interested in basketball will be present.

It was first planned to form a commercial league, but the latest is to accept applications from all teams no matter who or what they represent. Managers of teams from outside counties are also welcome, as there is a chance that outside teams will be taken in, the same as was Crockett last winter.

Stanford Tackles U. S. C. in the South On Thanksgiving

LOS ANGELES, Nov 25.—Southern California fans—particularly those who study the technical side of the game—are looking forward to Thursday afternoon's affair between Stanford and U. S. C. as the game of games in Southern California this season.

Although California has beaten both teams and there have been some hot games played on Southern gridirons, these fans figure that U. S. C. and Stanford are going to show some sensational stuff in the way of new style plays.

Coach Henderson of U. S. C. figures Stanford will show his men something and he has altered his program considerably with emphasis in the workouts in defense against a new line of plays.

Berkeley High Is Easy Winner From Mountain View Team

The Berkeley high American football team is today claiming the championship of the C. I. F. as a result of their easy victory over the team of Mountain View Academy at California field. The score was 116 to 0, the highest ever made in local high school football games. Berkeley will meet Stockton or Sacramento high in a game for the Northern California title. The winners of the game will meet the winners of Southern California.

Under the Goal Posts

By DOUG MONTELL

Having hardly had time to recover from the excitement of the Stanford-California game, the public is turning now to watch with added interest the contest in the northland on Turkey Day between the University of Washington and the University of California. The battle is the final one of the Pacific Coast for the year and presents a great interest. A victory one way or the other will definitely establish the supremacy of the coast, either to the north or to our own state and the hopes of the southern section of the conference are pinned on the California varsity in their fight in the north.

It is well to present the dope for its face value and in so doing estimate the chances of the warriors of Andy Smith, one of Berkeley's leading citizens and head coach of the Blue and Gold. Andy has a tough job ahead of him, not impossible, but for once in the season he is going into battle with the odds definitely against him. On the face of the teams themselves there is not much of an advantage, although the Washington eleven has been through a season that has been more and more successful since the start. Washington started on October 18, when they trounced a service eleven from the U. S. S. New York 35-0. In the game the play was ragged and it looked like a slow season for the Purple and Gold. They came back strong and a week later snowed Whitman under by 120-0, the high score of the Coast for the season.

BEAT WASHINGTON STATE.

Before they had reached midseason form Washington ran into Oregon and the Lemon Yellow took the Purple and Gold down the line 24-13. It was a hard-fought game with Oregon showing better teamwork throughout. An easy game followed with the Pacific Fleet eleven, Washington winning 14-0. Up to this point the charges of Jump Hunt had not been figured on for a chance at the Conference title, but when they invaded Pullman and whipped Washington State 13-7 the following week they established themselves as the team to beat.

It is unfortunate that breaks of the schedule did not bring Oregon into conflict with California and Stanford. There seems to be a need to have a more definite means of picking the Coast champions that by a percentage basis of Conference games. As matters now stand, California and Oregon are tied for the lead, each having won 2 and lost 1. Washington and Washington State are tied also, Washington having won 1 and lost 1, as has Stanford and the States have won 2 and lost 2. The Oregon Aggies are in the rear, having won 1 and lost 3.

If California wins, on a percentage basis the Bears will have the Conference title, while if Washington wins it will tie up the race, Oregon and Washington having equal right to be picked for the champions. Washington on paper looks to have an advantage over California, both on account of the poor showing made by the Bears Saturday and on account of the trip California is making. Outside of that, betting would be even.

WORKED UNDER HANDICAP.

It is well known that when Washington defeated Washington State they did so without the aid of three of their veterans, Sandy Wick, center; Dave Logg, fullback, and Grimm, tackle, being out of the game. Grimm is certain to be seen in action against California and the return of Wick and Logg is rumored. Sandy Wick is one of the best centers on the Coast and Logg will be a great source of strength in the backfield, being a veteran from the days of Dobie.

At ends Washington has veteran material, Faulk being the best tackler in the Conference and one of the first choices for an end position on a mythical eleven. George Smith at right end is a veteran who was elected captain last year, and he has just returned to the line-up after having been out all season.

These two men stack up as superior to the Bruin ends.

At tackles Grimm and Clark are opposed to Majors and Cranmer. Neither of the Washington men are the equal of Majors and Grimm is a shade superior to Cranmer. At guard the Purple and Gold has a great advantage in Hall and Pope Blake, who does the brunt of the punting, is one of the best guards in the Conference and the work of both Pope and Blake against Washington State was responsible for halting the driving line plunges of the hard-hitting Gillis.

LINES MEASURE FAVORABLY.

[illegible] Wick is opposed to Latham of California at center the advantage is again with the North, but Latham has an advantage over L. Smith, who was used as a substitute center in the last game for Washington. The two lines measure favorably, and neither team will be able to make great yardage by means of line plunges. For this reason an open game is favored and California will have to show much more than she did Saturday to offset the aerial attack of Washington.

Washington is weak at quarter, neither Abel nor Williams comparing to Karl Deeds or Peske Sprott, whichever Andy uses. Deeds is looked to be the selection, being a better general than Sprott and Sprott can well be returned to his position at halfback for this game.

In Dailey, the Washington captain, and Butler Jump Hunt has a fine pair of plunging backs, Daily being a hard-hitting man of the type of Wells and Butler, unknown until this year, has made a reputation for himself on account of his work against Oregon and Washington State. The probable lineup [illegible] Brooks and Sprott [illegible] the first choice with Shad [illegible] ready to open up the play.

REUNION INTERRUPTED

DULUTH, Minn, Nov 25.—The Sam Langford - Jack Thompson scheduled ten-round bout here last night was stopped in the sixth round by the referee when he declared the fighters were stalling.

use. There is a chance of Theisen being shifted from end to play fullback, or even Dave Logg may be seen in action. Against these men Dummy Wells stacks up a big favorite.

There are more stars on the Washington team than on the California eleven. Washington may have grown over-confident on account of their win over the Crimson and Gray. California is sure to play a greatly improved game. At all odds, it will be one of the best battles seen in the north this year, and with championship honors at stake the match for will fly before the final gun sounds.

Benicia Nine Is Defeated by Oaks In Closing Game

BENICIA, Nov. 25.—The Oaks won easily from Benicia, due to poor playing of the Benicia infield, the final score being 8 to 1. O'Doul was on the mound for the local team and did some good pitching, putting all he had on the ball in the pinches but his teammates fell down on him at critical moments.

Kremer and Mitze made up the battery for the Oaks and delivered the goods in great style. Kremer was [illegible] for a homer by Cunningham, [illegible] the only chance Benicia [illegible] the hits off the Oaks [illegible] were few and far between [illegible] perfect.

Dutch Lundberg replaced O'Doul in the eighth and kept the Oaks from further scoring. One hit was made off him in the two innings.

Fight for Eastern Football Title is Still Unsettled

By HENRY L. FARRELL, United Press Staff Correspondent.

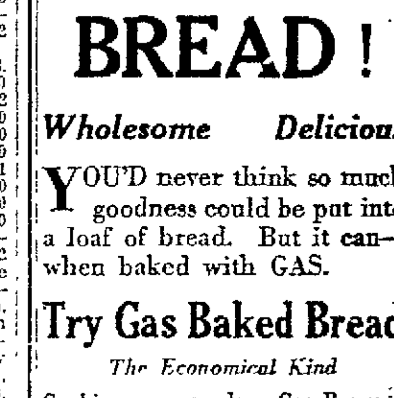

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—If Podunk or Yapp Crossing claim the eastern football championship this season they would get it. No one would be entitled to argue them out of it, for it seems, after the most chaotic season of years, that there is no real "honest of Gosh" champion.

The regal robes and the sceptre had been draped on Syracuse last week but the New Yorkers allowed Indiana, ninth in the western conference, [illegible]

Harvard's defeat of Yale made the Crimson the only undefeated major team of the east, but the record of the Cambridge eleven is not impressive enough to carry a title.

Colgate, Dartmouth, Pittsburgh and Washington and Jefferson stand high on the list, but each has a defeat that cuts them out of a chance for the throne.

Affairs in the west are a little more tangible. Illinois has first call for the honors with a victory over Ohio State, the choice of the early season dopesters. First and second place was thereby established, but the ranking of the other conference members is in a hopeless scramble.

The Pacific Steamship Company's vessels have been damaged during the past few days, according to reports which have been received here. The motor schooner Admiral Sims was reported wrecked in the Philippine Islands on Thursday last while en route to this port from Manila. The crew was saved. The cablegram stated that the vessel was so badly damaged that she will be a total loss.

On the same date the steamer Elkton, operated by the same company, went aground in Yokohama bay. She was floated later and proceeded to Kobe. The extent of the damage done, the report did not state. Another Pacific Steamship Company's chartered steamer, the Windber, was close at hand and succeeded in towing the [illegible] off the mud. The steamer Admiral Sebree, another of the Pacific Steamship Company's craft, began to leak very badly while loading print paper at Ocean Falls, and was compelled to discharge her cargo, and go on the drydock for repairs. Much of her cargo was damaged.

The McCormick Steamship Company's steamer Ernest H. Meyer, while on the Columbia river yesterday ran into a log, and broke a blade out of her propeller; she goes on the drydock today for repairs, and will then load lumber for this port.

The steamer Mayfair arrived at Eureka from the wreck of the steamer Northfork, where she brought the fuel tank of the wrecked craft. She was towing it into port, but the tow line parted and the coast guard crew got a line on the tank, but was unable to tow it into port, so the tug Ranger was called and towed the tank into port. The tank will be placed on deck of a steamer and brought to Oakland harbor, to be used in another craft.

Bad weather still prevails around the Humboldt bar, delaying many vessels. Several of the local lumber craft were held outside for some days as the bar was breaking. The tug Relief arrived there yesterday from this port with the barkentine W. H. Smith in tow. She was to have left Eureka today with the new barkentine George U. Hind in tow, but the skipper would not take any chances, as the bar is in bad condition. The new craft is coming here to be completed.

Another cargo of salt codfish arrived on Puget Sound yesterday from the Ohkotsh sea, and caught by Japanese. This is the fifth cargo of codfish brought to the sound this season by Japanese on their own craft, and sold to the American codfishing companies at Anacortes, Washington.

S. S. Freeman of the Freeman Steamship Company, has taken over the steam schooner Daisy, and Captain C. J. Carlson goes out as master of the craft. The schooner Bonita was purchased by L. E. Kelly from George J. White.

Captain H. P. Palmgren, 1911 Channing Way, Berkeley, who was master of the steamer Thomas L. Wand when she was wrecked on the Atlantic coast two weeks ago, is on his way home, according to a letter which arrived here today from the east. The vessel is a total loss and the crew managed to escape with only what clothes they had on them. The captain, mates and engineers, as well as many of the sailors, were shipped at this port when the craft left here two years ago.

Change of masters registered at the United States Custom House:

Captain D. S. Hamm, steamer Virgil G. Bogue; Captain George Harding, steamer Ardmore; Captain P. E. Gonzales, steamer San Joaquin No. 4; Captain Charles Yarneburg, steamer Intrepid; Captain C. J. Carlson, steamer Daisy, and Captain L. Lorentzen, steam launch Ellen.

S. F. COUPLE HELD FOR THEFT OF AUTO

Stewart Steele, taxicab driver, and his wife, Gladys, a cafe entertainer, are in the San Francisco city prison today on charges of grand larceny, despite the elaborate precautions which the police say the couple made to conceal their theft on October 15 of an automobile belonging to E. A. Rogers, Oakland newspaper photographer.

The couple were arrested several days ago as they stepped from a train in Seattle and were brought to San Francisco yesterday to stand trial. They are to appear in the police court tomorrow morning. They were arrested on telegraphic descriptions sent by the San Francisco police.

STOLE CAR IN OAKLAND

According to the authorities the couple on the night of October 15 stole Rogers' automobile in Oakland, brought the vehicle to this city, substituted a stolen license plate and using an alleged fraudulent bill of sale, sold the machine to H. R. Ross, 145 Eddy street, for $650. The police say that the bill of sale given to Ross by Mrs. Steele, purported to show that she had paid a man identified as John Reed, $800 for the automobile. "Reed," the police say, is a fictitious person, his name and the bill of sale serving merely as a medium for the sale of the automobile.

FAILED AT APPOINTMENT

Ross told the police that he discovered he had been victimized when the Steele couple failed to keep an appointment with him for the express purpose of clearing up the status of his registration and city license plate number.

Pending a disposal of the case the automobile is being held by the police at the Hall of Justice. According to the police the recovery of the automobile seemed so remote that an insurance company already has reimbursed Rogers for the loss of the vehicle.

PIERHEAD LINES ARE MOVED BACK

That the United States pierhead and bulkhead lines along the northwest shore of San Leandro bay from Bay Farm island bridge to the eastern end of the Oakland tidal canal have been consolidated into a combined pierhead and bulkhead line and relocated so as to coincide with private property lines of the submerged lands in this locality is the announcement made today by E. Eveleth Winslow, colonel, corps of engineers.

Colonel Winslow says:

"In accordance with law and regulations the above changes in these harbor lines were approved by the secretary of war under date of November 10, 1919. Maps of the locality showing the new harbor lines may be seen at this (United States Engineer, 401 Customs House, San Francisco) office by any person interested in the matter."

According to officials of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce this change means that the pierhead lines, which have heretofore extended some distance into the channel, will be moved back to the bulkhead line, thus combining the two.

TALBOT HOME AT EDENVALE SOLD

SAN LEANDRO, Nov. 25.—With the announcement of the sale of the mansion and grounds of the late Frederick C. Talbot, multi-millionaire lumber king, comes the announcement today of an elaborate housewarming which is to be held New Year's eve when the new owner, R. C. Durant, Oakland automobile man, takes possession. It has been announced that the function will rank with the most brilliant events that the place has known.

The former Talbot home has been in the hands of a caretaker since the death of the owner last March. It is located on the Foothill boulevard at Edenvale, several miles to the east of San Leandro.

The estate comprises 470 acres and the sale price was announced as $200,000. Mr. Talbot's children became the owners of the place upon the former's death, and the sale was effected by his son, William H. Talbot, as executor of the estate. Talbot's entire estate comprised $50,000,000.

It was nearly a score of years ago that Mr. Talbot built his Edenvale home. The setting in the wild beauty of the foothills was picturesque and the skill of noted gardeners so enhanced its charm that it soon became famous. Gardens were laid out, rare trees planted and the natural beauty of the woods made more effective by pathways and other improvements.

An elaborate system of water works and of electric light and power were installed. The interior furnishings were rich. During the life of Mr. Talbot the mansion was the scene of many brilliant social functions.

SKYLINE FOREST TO BE PROTECTED

The fire of last week that swept more than a mile of Oakland's Skyline boulevard may result in several constructive measures being undertaken to protect the young forests along the boulevards from future fires, according to Harlod French, for many years acive in the conservation of nature's beauty spots around Oakland, and Chief Elliott Whitehead of the Oakland fire department.

French announced today that the Sierra Club would meet on Thanksgiving Day at Joaquin Miller's home to discuss plans for the protection of Oakland's open lands. It is probable that the Sierra Club will organize a subsidiary society along the plans of the Tamalpais Conservation Club, which has done much to conserve the wild places of Marin county.

The formation of a metropolitan park district will also be urged. The purpose of this step will be to secure cooperation between the police and fire departments and the playground boards of Alameda county.

Chief Whitehead suggested the organization of a junior fire department by the Boy Scouts, the fire having been discovered by a party of seven Scouts. The organization of such a service would, it is pointed out, make possible better cooperation of the Boy Scout organization with the authorities. It was largely by chance that the boys discovered last week's fire and prevented it from devastating a large area.

CITY TO APPEAL PENSION VERDICT

In behalf of the board of trustees of the police relief and pension fund City Attorney H. L. Hagan filed today in the District Court of Appeals in San Francisco an appeal from the decision of Superior Judge A. F. St. Sure in the pension claim of Herman O. Rumetsch, former corporal of police.

Judge St. Sure's decision, handed down several weeks ago, granted to Rumetsch, who is temporarily retired from the service because of injuries received in a struggle with an armed maniac, a writ of mandate compelling the trustees to pay him one-half of the salary attached to his rank at the time of retirement.

The appeal sets forth that members of the police and fire departments who are peensioned are entitled to a pension allowance equal to one-half of the salary attached to their rank one year prior to retirement. The issue calls into question the entire pension system of the city.

Dies of Injuries From Auto Crash

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—Emilio Parella, aged 31, of 521 Talbot avenue, Albany, died this morning at Roosevelt hospital from injuries sustained November 11, when the bicycle he was riding was struck by an automobile driven by his brother, Charles, age 25, of 929 Gilman avenue, Berkeley.

An inquest will be held over the body tomorrow afternoon at five o'clock. It is not likely that Charles Parella will be held to answer by the coroner's jury.

$50 Cash Prize

THE OAKLAND REAL ESTATE BOARD has taken charge of a contest for the naming of that section of the City of Oakland lying along Moraga Road and the Oakland & Antioch Railroad, and extending from Rock Ridge and Claremont Districts to Joaquin Miller's, and from Upper Piedmont back to the Skyline Boulevard.

This area comprises some 2500 acres of residential land owned by the Realty Syndicate Company, who are now developing this section into a magnificent restricted residential park.

A name for this new section is desired and a prize of $50.00 cash is offered for the best name submitted before January 1st, 1920. (In case the name selected is submitted by more than one person, prizes of equal value will be given each.)

The one condition in submitting name is that you describe what you observed in this district that suggested to you the name you sub-submit.

Mail names to

Oakland Real Estate Board

To get to this new district, go out Moraga Road from Piedmont or out Park Boulevard to Moraga Road, or take Oakland & Antioch and get off at Thornhill Station.

PROSPERITY OF BERKELEY GOES FORWARD FAST

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—California's chief cities continue to show financial activity, notwithstanding the stringent money market in New York and London. The slowing-down effect may be felt here later, unless conditions develop for those points.

Oakland holds its own as third city in the state and Berkeley maintains the eighth place, as usual. Every city in California registered an increase, according to the figures compiled by the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce. Following are the particulars:

		Increase.
San Francisco	$179,901,529	$52,625,870
Los Angeles	66,452,000	31,416,000
Oakland	10,835,088	2,669,357
San Jose	9,276,786	8,158,019
Sacramento	8,556,968	3,676,256
Fresno	8,093,305	Not stated
Stockton	7,846,100	5,554,054
Berkeley	2,945,109	....
San Diego	2,123,554	307,250
Long Beach	2,390,034	1,386,439
Pasadena	2,241,654	1,244,859
Bakersfield	1,266,305	1,336,439

Speaking of local affairs and the outlook for the immediate future, Secretary Wells Drury of the Chamber of Commerce said: "There never was so much prosperity among Berkeley merchants. The manufacturers, of course, have been thriving beyond former expectations for about three years, and now it is the turn of the local dealers to realize handsome profits. The trade seems to come to them with a rush, but they keep on encouraging it by judicious advertising.

"The recurring movement, promoted by the Chamber of Commerce, to encourage home trading, has met with universal approval, and undoubtedly will help all parts of our city. The motto is, 'Trade at home, and remember to deal with the merchants of your own vicinity.' It is just as necessary to foster neighborhood loyalty as to insist on city loyalty. What we wish is to see all parts of Berkeley prosperous—a city of homes filled with busy men and women and happy boys and girls."

Christmas Banking Club to Be Opened

For the purpose of encouraging the banking of money by men, women and children who have never possessed a bank book and to promote the habit of saving, The Oakland Bank of Savings will, in a few days, open a new department known as the 1920 "Christmas Banking Club." Payments will begin December 18 and continue for a period of fifty weeks.

F. M. Edwards, who will be in charge of the new department, says that depositors may start with any amount from 1 cent to $10 or more, and deposit a like amount each week for the fifty weeks.

Through such a plan depositors are assured of Christmas money, Edwards says. Interest is paid by the bank on the average balance at the rate of 4 per cent per annum.

As a concrete example of what boys and girls can accomplish under this plan in the way of saving money the bank officials say:

"Put in two cents the first week, four cents the second and six cents the third week. Increase your deposit two cents each week for fifty weeks. You then have $25.50 at Christmas time or to start an 'accumulating' bank account which in five years will amount to $127.50."

In connection with the Christmas Banking Club there will be a Weekly Savings Club established for the purpose of enabling depositors to meet vacation expenses, insurance or taxes at a definitely fixed time. Under the rules governing the 1920 weekly plan accounts may be started at any time and closed at any time.

FURTHER ADVANCE IN SECURITIES IS AGAIN RECORDED

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Copper shares were the only noteworthy exceptions to the further advance of prices at the opening of today's stock market. The usual motor, oil, [illegible] issues were in moderate demand at gains of 1 to 3 points. Miscellaneous stocks and unclassified shares also moved with the popular industrials. Early gains were materially extended within the first hour under the lead of General Motors and Pierce Arrow. The trend of the day's trading follows:

FORENOON—The market drifted idly after the first inquiry for stocks, but dullness had no effect upon the advance, which assumed broader dimensions. General Motors extended its gain to 13 points and others of that class were 2 to 6 points higher. Pennsylvania Seaboard Steel, Superior Steel and Chicago Pneumatic Tool were conspicuous in the pronounced improvement shown by ordinary industrials. Representative active stocks were substantially better with equipments and shippings. Call loans opened at 7 per cent, but fell to six per cent before noon, when still higher prices prevailed in the general list.

AFTERNOON—Only a little money was offered at 6 per cent, the rate immediately jumping back to 7. Trading continued in very light volume but with further gain, excepting among rails, coppers and local utilities. General Motors extended its rise to almost 30 points.

CLOSING—The usual profit taking occurred later, some leaders forfeiting much or all of their advance, while others mounted higher. The closing was firm. Sales approximated 1,000,000 shares.

BERKELEY KEEPS PACE WITH STATE IN SOLID GROWTH

BERKELEY, Nov. 25.—That Berkeley is keeping pace with other California cities in the matter of building business and factory activity, is just issued by the First National Bank of Berkeley.

Addition to numerous other transactions it is announced that a large apartment house on Benvenue avenue was sold for $20,000 and that construction work on an $80,000 fireproof warehouse on Hearst avenue, near Shattuck, is under way. Building permits totaled $23,771.

Bank clearings for the week showed an increase of $219,119.86 over the previous week, amounting to $2,945,109.86.

The bank summary, in part, says:

"Another evidence of business growth is local freight movement. Both the Southern Pacific and the Santa Fe railroads report inability to obtain a sufficient number of cars to care for the increased business. Heavy incoming passenger service is reported, with light outward movement.

"The settlement of the waterfront lease has directed attention to Berkeley's growing factory district and has already brought business-like inquiries from the East as to the city's factory facilities.

"With the exception of the Macauley foundry and the Byron Jackson Iron works, where the men are on strike, all Berkeley factories are working to capacity. It is expected that the men will resume work in the local plants as soon as the shipyard strike is settled.

"A new factory is being erected by the Tibbetts Paint company, which is expected to be completed before the first of the year.

"Although the housing problem is not so acute as it was a few months ago, there is still a good demand for homes and the real estate dealers report many sales during the week.

"Retail merchants report an increasing demand for goods as the holiday season approaches, and all anticipate a lively season of buying from now until the first of the year."

Twelfth Federal Reserve District Rapidly Getting Back on a Peace Basis

Rapid progress in readjustment in the twelfth federal reserve district, from a war to a peace basis, is reported in a bulletin just issued by the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco. It is pointed out that the year following the signing of the armistice has been one of great activity. Lumbering, shipbuilding and mining are among the industries in the district that were most directly affected by the war stimulus, it is shown. The bulletin, in part, says:

"All surplus stocks of lumber cut on government orders have been absorbed. Mill stocks are 30 per cent below normal, and sales are 20 per cent in excess of those of a year ago. Volume of buying declined in September of this year, but there followed a strong demand for both domestic and foreign consumption, which, in spite of the fact that there is normally a seasonal decline, has steadily increased during October and the early part of November, with prospects of continuing increase in demand throughout the winter.

"Demand is so great as to practically prevent replenishment of depleted mill stocks, and a number of mills are now refusing to accept new orders. During the four weeks ending November 1, an average of 122 mills in the Pacific Northwest reported production of 130,577,140 feet—1.28 per cent below normal, as compared with 7.84 per cent below normal during the corresponding period in 1918, and 5.37 per cent below normal during the preceding four weeks. Orders accepted were 26.29 per cent, and shipments 18.65 per cent below actual production, as compared with 32.23 per cent and 21.48 per cent, respectively, during the preceding four weeks.

MILLS ARE BUSY.

"An average of fourteen California redwood mills reported a cut of 30,553,000 feet, shipments of 22,816,000 feet, and orders received of 30,686,000 feet during the same period. In September, fifteen California white pine and sugar pine mills produced 71,715,353 feet, shipped 33,566,729 feet and had unfilled orders for 90,391,623 feet on September 30.

"Increased building activity is responsible for a considerable portion of the increased demand for lumber. Building permits, instead of showing the usual seasonal decline, have steadily increased during the fall months nineteen principal cities reporting permits aggregating $12,116,000 in October, 1919, as compared with $3,131,000 in October, 1918, and $11,093,000 in September, 1919. With few exceptions, the cities of the district report that building of homes and apartment houses is responsible for 60 to 70 per cent of the permits (by value).

"Slower progress in the transition from a war status has been made by the steel shipbuilding industry. Most of the wooden shipbuilding yards have now been closed, their materials sold, and labor employed absorbed by other industries.

"The steel and coal strikes apparently have had no important effect upon labor conditions in this district, and there are at the moment few labor difficulties other than those in and around San Francisco and Seattle. In San Francisco no new strikes have been called.

INCREASED LABOR COST.

"Seattle is faced with increased unemployment and attempts of the radical element to control labor.

"The stimulus of high prices, which increased mining output during the war, has now been offset by declining prices for minerals, accompanied by increasing price of materials and high cost of labor. As a consequence all states producing copper, lead and zinc report decreased production in 1919, the reduction in some cases reaching 50 per cent, while only Nevada and Alaska predict that the gold output will equal that of 1918. Labor released from mining has either migrated or has been absorbed in other industries.

"Domestic commerce continues active, with a large turnover of goods and a minimum number of failures. Retail trade was approximately 15 to 20 per cent greater in value in October than in September, and 80 per cent greater in October, 1919, than in October, 1918.

"California citrus fruits are moving to market. The 1919-20 crop is estimated at 80 to 90 per cent of that of 1918-19, the crop of navel oranges being approximately 85 to 90 per cent and that of Valencia oranges 80 to 85 per cent of that of the previous year.

NEW RECORD SET

"The largest citrus and deciduous fruit season in the state of California has just been completed. Shipments for the year ending October 31, 1919, were as follows:

Fruits.	Carloads.
Oranges	39,307
Grapes	17,575
Lemons	10,023
Pears	4,209
Plums	2,918
Peaches	2,773
Apricots	419
Cherries	335
Total	77,559

"The California walnut crop, now being shipped, is estimated at 25,000 tons, valued at $15,000,000, which compared with a 1918 crop of 16,500 tons, valued at $11,500,000.

"Daily production of petroleum in California during October averaged 277,589 barrels, as compared with 290,794 barrels during September. Stored stocks decreased 882,601 barrels during the month, aggregating 32,017,037 barrels on October 30."

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—Fresh strength developed in the corn market today owing more or less to scantiness of receipts [illegible] and to hope of enlarged export demand. Opening prices, which ranged from ¾ off to 1¼c advance, with December $1.32¾ to $1.33, and May $1.27¼ to $1.27¾, were followed by a material upturn all around.

Later the corn market weakened temporarily as the result of a statement by Wheat Director Barnes that removal of the embargo on imports might reduce the price of some kinds of wheat 50 cents a bushel. Nevertheless corn closed strong, 1 to 2c higher, with December $1.33⅜ to 1.33½ and May $1.28⅛ to $1.28¼.

Oats hardened with corn. After opening unchanged to ¼@½c higher, including May at 76⅛ to 76¼c, the market reacted a little but then rose again.

Provisions averaged higher, despite a sharp break in hog values.

Corn, No. 2 mixed, $1.47@1.49; No. 2 yellow, $1.50.

Rye, No. 2, $1.48.

Rain Would Complete County Banner Y[ear]

Nearly all varieties of late vegetables are being received in the wholesale market in large quantities. Each morning the sidewalks in front of business houses that handle commodities are piled high with loose and crated vegetables. Prices generally are ruling comparatively low for this season of the year. The gardeners are harvesting large crops. Continued fair weather has [illegible] marketing.

Farmers in this vicinity would welcome rain. A heavy downpour would be highly beneficial to the farming and stockraising interests of the county. Crops that would have been damaged had rains fallen a few weeks ago are now well out of the way.

Commission merchants say that the fall has been exceptionally conducive to successful harvesting and marketing of crops. They point out that all that is needed now to complete a banner year in Alameda county is rain which, well distributed through the winter and early spring, will add millions in wealth to the county.

MOTOR CAR TRADESMEN OPPOSED TO FREE SERVICE FEATURES

PROFITS ARE DISCUSSED BY AUTO EXPERTS

Standardization of service, elimination of the word "free" before service and the substitution of "better" for it, transforming the industry from a "game" to a business basis for the purpose of insuring reasonable profits and satisfied customers—these were the considerations with which the California Automobile Trade Association is dealing at the business sessions of the allied crafts at the Hotel Oakland.

Two terms most frequently employed by the speakers during the debates were "reasonable, safe profits" and "satisfied customers." Every thing turned on those two considerations, and a great deal turned thereon.

FREE SERVICE OPPOSED

As a general proposition the dealers favored elimination of the free service to buyers of cars. They argued that their margin of profit will not allow its continuance, and that the practice generally results in a misunderstanding between the dealer and his customer, as the result of divergent interpretations of the free service guarantee. It was pointed out that the salesman in his zeal to close the deal generally sells more free service than the dealer can afford to deliver; that the more free service is dispensed the more is demanded, and that it makes for dissatisfaction all around.

The Southern California Association recently recommended a uniform standard of thirty days' free service, with a limited mileage, in order to finally turn the car over to the purchaser with all parts adjusted and all defective parts replaced. It was contended that that is all any customer can expect, adjustment; and that when more is given the dealer is parting with his reasonable profit.

Likewise the tire men, and the battery craft, as well as other accessory dealers, favored standardization of a limited service. The battery men voted to recommend to the general association a guarantee on new batteries limited to ninety days or 3000 miles. Abuses of the more liberal guarantee were cited in abundance, each member having his troubles to tell to his associates. The tire men agitated for the elimination of mileage guarantee, especially the long guarantee advertised by certain of the factories, claiming that the guarantee works a severe hardship upon the dealer who is called upon to make the guarantee good under all circumstances.

The garage men adopted a motion standardizing the charge for Saturday afternoon and Sunday on a basis of time and a half. The proposal will be submitted to the body as a whole this afternoon. The members claimed they cannot keep skilled mechanics if they have to require them to be on duty seven days a week. The workmen want to get off for Saturday shopping, they say, and the disposition of the owner to get away to the golf links and to the country is shared by the men. There were those who opposed the measure, declaring that the week end is the time of heaviest travel, and that the garages can reasonably be expected to give the service. To this contention it was replied that the automobile owners will have to take thought of the week-end and have their car put into repair during the week, instead of leaving the work to pile up for Saturday and Sunday morning.

"DELIVER THE GOODS"

Let the public know what they can have and when they can have it, at how much; then deliver the goods, was a sort of slogan that appeared underneath all the discussion. The craftsmen of every line expressed the opinion that on that basis the customers would be generally better satisfied and there would be less complaint of overcharge and the like. They were of opinion that the customer would rather pay $2 an hour for the service of a skilled mechanic, for instance, than $1.50 for a less higher skilled mechanic, to work on the car. There was a proposal to standardize the charge for all repair work on the basis of skilled workmen at the top figure, and to put the skilled man on the let him finish the job, rather than invite dissatisfaction by attempting to get along on a lower basis of charge for work that would have to be done with inferior grade workmen. The repair men declare they lose money on the latter class of workmen as a general thing.

The move to protect tire users by selling the junk to the junk men was furthered at the session of the tire dealers. Instead of patching up a tire that is not work the patching, even though it may carry the car for a while, it is proposed to universalize the custom of selling such tires to the junk dealers. And to insure their not being returned to the trade, the dealers are cutting them up. They declared that as a result of the adoption of this practice by those dealers who are members of the association the junk dealers have lowered the price they will pay for old tires by two cents a pound. The dealers point to this fact as proof that tires heretofore sold as junk were patched up by the junk men and sold back through irresponsible dealers to the unsuspecting automobile owner.

FACTORY SHORT-COMINGS

The dealers, in their proposal to eliminate what they characterize as the abuse of the free service, declared that they were being made the goats for the short-comings of the factories.

"Let the factories know that the dealer will not rebuild the car and they will make their rebuilding unnecessary," declared James Gray. He was seconded by J. Charles Nagel, who, along with Carl Christensen and Gray, was named on a committee to canvass the dealers and determine the attitude toward the subject. The speakers contended that the margin of profit upon which the selling of cars is being conducted makes it necessary to eliminate the free service heretofore renderd.

The dealers adopted a proposal to employ Eastern methods in determining the value of used cars. It was pointed out that in the near future, when the factories get back to normal capacity, they will be confronted with the used car problem

PROPOSE NEW GARAGES.

Measures of general interest fostered by the association include the establishment of a garage at Hamilton on the Big Oak Flat road into the Yosemite. It was called to the attention of members that the pouring of concrete on the new Yosemite highway from Merced to the county line is now under way and that a contract has been let for the grading from the county line to El Portal, and that the coming seasons will witness a heavily increased traffic to the valley. The garage facilities there, it was pointed out, is wholly inadequate and the establishment of a garage under the auspices of the association will, it was maintained, be good news to the public. A committee headed by H. P. Wells of Modesto was appointed to make a report at the Bakersfield meeting, December 8 and 9, on the project.

The association is likewise fostering a plan for the registration of all garage mechanics so that a man applying for work in any garage within the jurisdiction of the association can have his record looked up before he is engaged. This process, modeled somewhat after recently proposed legislation, will, it is claimed, give the maximum protection to garage owners as well as machine owners who take their cars to garages for repairs. It will help, also, to trace car thefts, it is claimed. The extension of the registration over other states will materially assist this latter interest, it was contended.

Getting the reward for recovery of stolen cars to the man entitled to it was another subject discussed by officials of the association, and means toward that end will be considered by the convention late this afternoon. It is claimed that at the present time many cars are not recovered because of the failure to properly reward the finders.

ENTERTAINMENT FEATURES.

Last night the men of the association gave over business to play at Wigwam Hall, in the Pacific building, where there was plenty of refreshments and entertainment, and the ladies went to the theater, guests of the women's reception committee.

This forenoon the convention formed in line for an automobile ride throughout the Eastbay, returning to the Hotel Oakland at noon for luncheon. This afternoon, beginning at 2:30, the different crafts will meet in a body for consideration of the recommendations decided upon by their several units.

Life Penalty Is Urged for Armed Automobile Thief

As an outcome of the recent murders committed by automobile bandits, M. F. Brown, speed cop in San Mateo county and secretary of the California Traffic Officers' Association, appeared today before the California Automobile Trade Association in session at the Hotel Oakland and argued for an endorsement of a law fixing a life penalty for any automobile thief captured in a stolen car with arms upon him. The proposed law recently received the endorsement of the traffic officers in Southern California.
